Established in 1869.} "Let Us See To it that A Government of the People, for the People and by the People, Shall Not perish from the Earth."—A. LINCOLN. Terms: $1.50 per Year

VOL. XXVI BELLEFONTE, PA., THURSDAY MORNING. MARCH 7, 1895. NO. 10

The publisher of a newspaper has one thing to sell and one thing to rent. He has the newspaper to sell and the space in his columns to rent. Can anyone inform us why he should be expected to give away either the one or the other? He can do so if he chooses and he does, as a matter of practical fact, furnish a great deal of space rent free. Put it does not follow that he ought to be expected to do so. It ought to be recognized as a contribution exactly as would the giving away of sugar or coffee by the groceryman. But strange to say, it is not looked upon in that light at all, yet everybody knows that the existence of a newspaper depends as much on the rent of his space and the sale of his paper as merchant's success depends on selling his goods instead of giving them away.

Items of Interest.

Jennings Perkins, a farmer residing near Martin's Ferry, O., aged 70, is cutting a new set of teeth.

Perhaps industrial education will not attain the prominence it deserves in our day but the future belongs to it.

The breaking up of the heavy ice on the Susquehanna has resulted in a great gorge ten miles in length, forming above Lock Haven. The jam extends from Queen Run to Glen Union.

A man named Hoffman was seriously wounded near Huntingdon, Pa, by a self-acting gun, which J. Howard Womelsdorf had fixed at the door of his chicken yard as a protection against thieves.

Venus is now the evening star and can be seen every evening in the south western sky when there are no clouds. Venus will grow brighter and brighter until August 14th and will cease to be the evening star on September 19th.

Weather Prophet DeVoe was correct in eleven out of his twenty eight guesses as to what the weather would be in February and the wonder is that he came even that near. Like the goose bone and the ground hog, DeVoe as a weather prophet is out of date.

The following speakers for the commencement were announced at State College in the following order: Byron Barnes Horton, Sheffield; Hugh McAllister Beaver, Bellefonte; Budd Gray, Tyrone; Melvin Jesse Kiefer, Sunbury, and Ralph L. MacDonald, State College.

A movement has been inaugurated to thoroughly examine the mountains north east of Mifflinburg for coal, says the Lewisburg Journal. Traces of coal have been found in that section and it is generally believed that there is an abundance of it. A fund has been raised, miners engaged and the search has been commenced.

Talk up your town; don't run it down; if you do not like it leave it, but don't stay here and abuse it. As long as you choose to reside here you are a component part of the place and are very foolish to seek your own disparagement. Talk up your town; write and speak in its praise and show yourself worthy of your home and your friends.

A Start for Good Public Roads.

Real reform in road making means that legislation must accept the situation at the bottom in order to cover every section of the State, and Representative Dambly's bill providing for the election of Supervisors for three years, instead of for one year, as at present, is the single sensible thing so far introduced in the Legislature on the road making subject that deserves to go through.

If this Legislature gives to the State nothing beyond Mr. Dambly's measure, that little will be a decided step in the right direction, and it would make the term of office what it eventually will become under a road bill, but very much in the advance of the time when a road bill may be expected to pass.

The argument that Assessors, Tax Collectors, Constables and School Directors in townships have a three-year term and Supervisors should be on the same level is a sensible one. Supervisors as a rule make the roads the first year so that they may be re-elected the next. Under the three-year term this abuse would be obiated and the townships would be benefited, and to enact such a law would be good public policy on the subject of roads.

The State is not ready as yet to expend $5,000,000 through a commission in building up the highways while it was ready years ago for a three year term for Supervisors, whose holding would be long enough to accomplish some real scheme of reform on well defined and not surface plans.

—Nearly 300 persons have been converted at the revival in the First Methodist church and 118 at the Second Methodist church, in Huntingdon, since the meeting began last fall. It has been a wonderful outpouring of the spirit, and the meetings continue with unflagging interest, penitents coming forward every evening.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

Washington, March 4, 1895.
From Our Regular Correspondent.)

There's a death at hand,
But 'stead of the funeral bell,
There's a joyful shout all over the land
'Tis well, 'tis well.

If the adage "only speak well of the dead" were literally followed it would be impossible to speak at all of the Fifty-third Congress, which drew its last gasp at noon to-day. About the best that can be said of the defunct Congress is that it did not do all the harm it might have done, and the democratic majority should receive no credit for that, as their intentions were to do all the harm possible and it was only by the alertness of the republicans that they were prevented from carrying them all out.

About the only mourners in the Congressional house of death are the ex-members who know that their public careers are ended for good and all, and the Capitol employes who only receive pay while Congress is in session.

Ex-Speaker Reed uttered a few words while the House was discussing under a suspension of the rules a bill appropriating $17,500 to reimburse Washington and Lee University, of Virginia, for injuries sustained during the war, which were as sound in principle as the foundation of common law. After protesting against the bill being considered on sentimental grounds instead of the grounds of reason and wisdom, Mr. Reed said: "Whoever provokes war must take the consequences, even of lawlessness, which destroys institutions of learning. No nation can afford to adopt the doctrine that all injuries to such institutions shall be paid after the war is over."

Ex-Senator Manderson—the "ex" was attached at noon to-day—tried to accomplish what would have been a real reform just before completing his Senatorial career. He failed, but that should not prevent his receiving due credit for having made the attempt. Senator Manderson offered an amendment to the general deficiency appropriation bill, providing that the wives and daughters of Senators and Representatives should not be borne on the rolls as clerks, but the Senate promptly laid it on the table, and the wives and daughters of certain Senators and Representatives will continue to draw $100 a month for work which with rare exceptions, they do not perform, and people elsewhere will continue to wonder why it is so difficult to get a Washington jury to convict those who rob the government. Senator Manderson's amendment should have become a law, and its provisions should have extended to cover the sons as well as the wives and daughters; also newspaper correspondents, and to embrace all government employment.

Senator Morgan was'nt mealy-mouthed about the reported intention of the British government to pay the damages allowed by Secretary Gresham to Canadian sealers in Bering Sea. He said in a speech in the Senate: "Sir George Baden-Powell says that they want to pay the Canadians and the recalcitrant and rascally Americans who hired themselves out under the British flag to rob the government of the U. S., violate its law, and dishonor the country—and to pay them in advance, so as to have a moral claim against the U. S. for this $425,000, not one shilling of which is due—not a shilling. I propose that the committee on Foreign Relations shall investigate that matter. There has been enough of falsehood and misrepresentation about this in official documents and in the newspapers to require, for the vindication of the honor of the country, that this investigation shall be made." Mr. Morgan was one of the Bering Sea arbitrators, and knows this subject thoroughly.

The silver program, which was to commit the democratic party to free coinage at a ratio of 16 to 1 sizzled out without making as much blaze as a parlor match would have done. The scheme had its origin in the fertile brain of Mr. Bland, of Mo., who to-day retired to private life, involuntarily, after a long career as member of the House. Mr. Bland very shrewdly allowed Mr. Bryan of Nebraska, another gentleman who was dropped from Uncle Sam's pay roll to-day, to take the management of the affair and to circulate the manifesto which was intended to force Mr. Cleveland and the other "gold bugs" out of the democratic party as soon as it had been signed by nine-tenths of the democrats in Congress. The manifesto might have had that effect had all the expected signers materialized, but they didn't. In fact so few democrats signed the manifesto that none of the signers' names were made public with the manifesto. The other scheme, fathered by those members of the Bi-Metallic League with democratic proclivities, to start a silver party and put up at once a Presidential ticket, is still in the incubator with the chances against its being hatched out in a healthy condition.

All Over the State.

Over 1,800 dogs have been reported for registry and taxation in Harrisburg.

Lancaster city has continued trouble to bring its telephone company under the control of its authority.

Reports from the northern and eastern sections of the state show that comparatively small portions of the snow which fell this winter have melted.

The bondholders of the Cumberland Valley Traction company have received notice that the interest on the company's bonds, due March 1, is ready for them.

Dunbar, Pa., has had no licensed saloon or hotel for ten years, and the citizens of the place are making a strong fight against the granting of license to a hotel.

Pugilists are being closely watched by the police in all parts of the state, the determination being to prevent all such encounters in every section of Pennsylvania.

The Cambria Iron and Steel company will begin the manufacture of structural beams on March 15. It will be an active competitor of the Carnegie Steel company. Two large contracts have just been closed.

In making an excavation last week, some workmen unearthed the fact that the ground was frozen to the depth of over four feet. This is the greatest depth that the frost has penetrated in this section for many a year.—Meadville Republican.

The general store of B. C. Young at McElhatton station on the Beech Creek railroad was entered by burglars Thursday night last and robbed of about $150 worth of goods. Entrance was effected with tools stolen from the flouring mill.

Williamsport Times: Altoona's city officials like our fire department, If it had an automatic fire alarm system and a few more pieces of much needed apparatus, they would undoubtedly have liked it much better. And so would we all.

On Wednesday Henry Fenstermacher, a farmer, of Rohrerstown, Lancaster county, purchased a cow from a Lancaster drover. After driving the animal home she gave birth to three calves. The triblets are still alive and in a healthy condition.

Foot Ball Reform Indispensable.

College foot ball has plainly reached a point at which wise friends of the game will urge new safeguards. Harvard is near to withdrawing from intercollegiate foot ball. Dr. W. W. Keen's report on the injuries caused by the game at West Point as compased with those of other games has made a profound impression on all interested in education. Public criticism of the game grows apace. Good and valuable as it is, it is in danger of disappearing unless it is reformed and its evils eliminated.

The Faculty Conference Committee of the University of Pennsylvania has taken the first step in this direction by proposing to the trustees of the University that new regulations should be drawn to control the University team and to the Athletic Association that a Rules Convention should be called with delegates from the universities and colleges to amend the rules against foul play and add to the field officials an umpire.

Unless this is done or the game reformed in some way the abolition of foot ball is a mere question of time. The game will go on until some fatal accident in a great college game will bring down a storm of disapproval and end the best and most valuable of college sports. In spite of the general criticism of the rules last year, substantially no change has been made in them and they remain open to the same objections as before, permitting the same play. A revision is indispensable and it ought to be made without delay and with the full determination to remove every legitimate objection which can be made to a game which with all its faults is of priceless value in the training and development of character.

As for the changes proposed in the management of the University team, they will commend themselves to every one. College games ought to be played only on college grounds. Admission fees ought to be restricted and it would be well if no men were admitted but those who had at some time attended a college or university. Lastly, the period of training should not be unnecessarily long, but training, it must be remembered, is very healthy work, and the man is fortunate who lays the foundation of sound health by training steadily.

Death Warrants to be Issued.

Harrisburg, March 1.—Governor Hastings will issue death warrants Tuesday for the following convicted murderers: John Elswinger, Greene county; Daniel Werling, Allegheny county; Charles Garrett, Lebanon county.

—The Christian Endeavor Society's social in the chapel tomorrow evening should be largely attended. It will cost but a dime to see it and the pleasant time you will have will be worth ten times that sum.

WEEKLY FINANCIAL REVIEW.

From our Regular Correspondent.

New York, March 2, 1895.

During the past week, business at the Stock Exchange has been somewhat slumpy. The still seems to have caught no inspiration from the Syndicate operations; and that appears to be producing, for the moment, somewhat of a reactionary effect in London. On the first flush of the loan negotiation, London seemed inclined to construe it as favoring higher prices for our securities, partly because it was calculated to repair our credit abroad, and partly because it was thought likely to cause more or less of a boom on Wall Street. The entire absence of any home respons to the loan transaction and its assuring attendant conditions, has naturally disappointed and discouraged London, and the mystery has suggested misgivings where there existed no real occasion for them. Under these circumstances, a suspicion seems to have arisen on the London Exchange that the Syndicate may find some difficulty in so controling the foreign exchanges, under the present condition of relatively low exports and high imports of merchandise, as to prevent shipments of gold. Under this idea London has been a considerable seller of railroad stocks to this market, and the sales have included the shares of some of our best and most staple railroads. On this market, there has been so much expectation as to exports of gold; not because the current commercial movement might not legitimately admit of some outflow; for no doubt modern shipments of gold would be natural under the present balance of trade; but because the engagements of the Loan Syndicate are understood to be such that they would not admit of gold shipments in at least the present stage of their operations.

All this suggestive of a certain kind of uncertainty likely to attend our international financial relations for so long as the exchanges may have to be subject to the manipulation of the Syndicate. For that period, the natural drift of our foreign settlements will be held under artificial [illegible] there can be no knowing, at any given time, what the Syndicate may be doing or intend to do, a certain amount of suspense seems inevitable. It is, however, something to have the assurance, from parties able to make the promise good, that no export of gold will be permitted that would involve any drain upon the Treasury reserve. Under these circumstances, we can afford to "walk by faith," when we cannot do so by sight. London, viewing our situation from a distance, may be slow to learn this lesson, and possibly we may temporarily suffer somewhat, in our speculative markets, in consequence; but the ultimate outcome will be an increase of confidence.

The reopening of an international discussion of the silver question, suggested by the recent utterances in the British Parliament and in the German Reichstag, is a hopeful symptom. It is an evidence of the growth of sentiment in favor of the double standard among the influential element in England and the landowners and farmers of Germany. The Governments of both nations seem to be more disposed to respect public opinion on this question than they were on the occasion of the conference of 1892; and the official utterances in the parliements of both countries suggest a strong probability that the whole problem may be reviewed in the light of later experience. To this country, nothing could be more welcome than the revival of a chance for the settlement of this disturbing problem. It is a significant fact that, in the case of this suggestive conference, the initiation comes from the two nations that were most opposed to any definate action at the gathering of 1892. Later experience has evidently not been lost upon them; and the prospect of their more cordial co-operation toward a settlement of this problem is a new ray of promise on the horizon. The international basis of settlement is the only one that can afford this country any relief from the embarrassments that surround this vexatious issue. Standing alone, the United States could undertake free coinage only with the sure result of being driven into silver mono-metallism; but, in union with the leading European nations, the experiment could be surrounded by no such risks.

Wall Street is looking hopefully to the end of the present Congress. With legislation in such incompetent hands, there has long been no room for hope, no possibility of resiliency, in any department of business. Apart from all party feeling, men of business know that, under a Republican Congress, they have had a long continued run of confidence and prosperity; and, after such a sorry experience as they have had under the opposite party, they welcome the prospect of the return to power of those at whose hands they have received no such treatment. The country will breathe more freely when Washington ceases to be the focus of a political fever that keeps the whole nation in suspense and apprehension. After Monday next, the business atmosphere will be relieved of this unwholesome infection; we shall be in a better mood to appreciate the large advantages conferred by the intervention of the Loan Syndicate; the spirit of trade will succeed the perplexing spirit of debate; and from that date we may expect to see the beginning of a healthier tone in enterprise and a more active resumption of business in every direction.

The cessation of political turmoil for the next eighteen months will be an invaluable contribution towards the restoration of business. For it so happens that politics are now occupied with business questions of an exceptionally important and delicate nature, and which go to the root of confidence in nearly all interests. When business is not in a vigorous condition, it is especially sensitive to the discussions and proposals that come up in the treatment of such questions, and the uncertainties thereby created afford ready excuses for the postponement of business operations. How this sort of interruption operates is shown by the fact that, for many months past, the business man's first question of every morning has been—"what was done yesterday at Washington?" Thank heaven! that sickening reiteration will cease next Monday; and henceforth the first question will be,—what is the price of wheat, or cotton or stocks? That will mean much more for the recovery of business than is now imagined.

Henry Clews.

The Fifty-Fourth Congress.

Little legislation of an important character is to be expected from the new congress. It will be under republican control, but as the democratic president will remain in the executive mansion during the whole of the life of the coming congress, nothing can be done which does not command his approbation.

Owing to that fact tariff legislation will be ruled out, or at least nothing need be expected in that direction. It may be that a bill will be drafted and passed embodying the republican idea; the McKinley act may be re enacted, but Mr. Cleveland could be depended upon to veto any bill looking toward protection. He is an aggressive free trader and recent events have taught him no wisdom.

The new congress ought to be able to better our financial situation, but the outlook for rational legislation is no good. The platforms of the republican party read well; they favor bimetallism, but only when that can be brought about by the co-operation of the world's great commercial nations. But practice has not always allited with precept.

We regret to be compelled to say that the United States senate will continue to be a hot-bed of fanaticism, so far as the money question is concerned. Some of the most rabid free coinage senators call themselves republicans, although their ideas are diametrically opposite to those which have hitherto guided the republican party. What the sentiment of the house will be we do not know. We ought to have as soon as possible some good, wholesome legislation, showing forth to the world the determination of this republic to cease its efforts to remonetize silver until other nations join. The vicious views which control this congress have just cost the taxpayers of the country $16,000,000, and if it were not that the financial opinions of Mr. Cleveland are known to be sound, the needless cost would have been far more.

As a matter of fact it will not be well to expect too much of the Fifty-fourth congress. It will not meet until December unless the president should call it sooner. And it is hardly likely to do much but talk politics when it does meet.

The Old Council.

The old council went out very quietly on Monday with little ceremony. About the only business of any importance transacted was the passing of almost three thousand dollars' worth of bills, but even this is necessary at times. The old council has undergone considerable abuse and derogatory talk during the past year and, it must be admitted, it looked at times as if there was a reason for it. But in good, sober judgment and second thought, the council is to be commended. True it is, that they have spent considerable money during the year, but with it all, the report of the borough treasurer shows up better than it did one year ago. And then look at the improvements. An increased and greatly benefitted water service; better streets and crossings; the latter the best that have ever been put down and which will last for years and years. A general improvement all along the line so that all in all the council of 1894 should be commended by everybody and condemned by none. Let the council of 1895 continue in the good work of its predecessor and the citizens cannot help but see the wisdom of their works.

Interesting State Notes.

The veterans have returned from Williamsport.

Lancaster city has continued trouble to bring its telephone company under the control of its authority.

Occasional 3 cent pieces are found in the collection boxes of churches, evidently the output of old stockings used for such hoardings.

If reports be true, there are more tramps roaming along the lines of the Philadelphia and Reading railroad than are seen in the state on the premises of other railroad companies.

Considerable numbers of divorce cases are being heard in the eastern counties of the state, York county having one of the most sensational of these do mestic infelicities, brought by a man named Campbels to be separated from his wife.

Allegheny city is fighting Pittsburg's scheme to consolidate its outlaying towns under one government with increased tenacity of opposition, but the chances are that Pittsburg will succeed in the effort, as did similar efforts for such consolidations in other parts of the state.

There are unusual numbers of mad dogs running in all parts of the state.

Large amounts of bogus butter continue to be sold in the cities of the state.

Eight months have been fixed as the minimum of the school term in Lebanon.

Salaries of officials in every part of the state are being increased again notwithstanding it is difficult to collect taxes in such localities owing to the tight times.

A Great Success.

The appearance of the Milesburg dramatic company in the O. U. A. M. hall last Saturday evening was one of the finest entertainments of the kind that has taken place in that town for a long time. The company is composed of ten members, all of whom played their parts to perfection, and treated their large audience to a play that could not be much improved upon. The various pieces of music rendered by the band and orchestra were executed in brilliant style and with great success. It is impossible to imagine a better time generally than was afforded in listening to the entire performance as rendered. The entertainment throughout was a great hit and never failed to merit energetic and prolonged applause. The receipts were about $20.00 and will go towards purchasing new uniforms for the Milesburg band. Success to the company, to the band and to its instructors.

FALL AT KITTANING.

Pittsburg Steamers Get Out of the Way of Danger.

Kittanning, Pa., March 3.—There is not enough water in the Allegheny here to budge the mass of ice between Manorville and Red Bank, and the nervous fears of the people have subsided. At noon the ice broke a mile above Ford City, and the river is now clear from that place to Pittsburg. No damage was done except by the overflow. The steamer Leader was almost overturned, but she and the Bob Connell followed the wake of the gorge down the river, after being ice-bound at Ford City for six weeks.

The break at Ford City lessens the danger to property there from the gorge above. Mahoning was the objective point for sight seers to-day. At 9.30 o'clock this morning the ice moved there and as far down as Pine creek and there stopped. John Gray, a Mahoning resident, says the water cannot move such a mass of ice. In some places it is piled to the level of the railroad and from bank to bank. Mr. Gray predicts that it will remain for weeks. Since noon the water has fallen about four feet. This morning's stage having failek to move the Kittanning gorge, it is not expected to go out without another thaw or rain. When it does move it is feared that Kittanning and Ford City will be swept from the face of the earth.

China Must Cede Territory.

Berlin, Feb. 28,—Viscount Aoki, Japanese minister to Germany, said today in an interview with a reporter from the Lokal Anzeiger: "Without a cessation of territory China cannot reckon on the termination of the war. While it is fully understood that China must indemnify for our expense in the war, I am aware that the European powers may interfere to prevent a cession of territory, but it is to be hoped that the Japanese government will maintain its position that the conclusion of peace, equally with the conflict, concerns Japan and China alone. Japan is willing at any moment to agree to terms which are in any way acceptable and honest."

Train Robber Sentenced.

Stafford Court House, Va., Feb. 28.—Charles Morgan, alias Morganfield, who has been on trial here charged with holding up and robbing a train at Acquia Creek of $25,000, was this afternoon found guilty and sentenced to eighteen years imprisonment.

Upon being advised of the verdict Governor O'Ferrall telegraphed his congratulations to Prosecuting Attorney White. The Governor telegraphed: "Train robbers will seek some other state for their nefarious work. Virginia juries will uphold the law."

Twenty-five are Dead.

Albuquerque, N. M., February 28.—Advices to-day from the scene of the mine explosion at Cerrilos, place the number of dead positively at twenty-five. One man is still missing. All the rest of the miners were accounted for. The superintendent of the mine said to-day that the explosion was caused by the carelessness of two miners who passed the danger line with unprotected lamps against orders. The damage to the mine is very small.

The Strike Spreading.

New York, February 28.—At a meeting of walking delegates this morning it was decided that the master builders had no intention whatever of compromising or of meeting the strikers half way. This being the case, the delegates finally decided not to make more offers of any sort.

A resolution was adopted calling out tomorrow every man connected with the Building Trades association. This is the strongest card the strikers have played It means that more than $10,000 men will stop work to-morrow.

Our New Navy.

Washington, Feb. 28.—The naval appropriation bill was reported to the senate this afternoon by Mr. Gorman. It reduces the number of battle ships authorized by the house from three to two. The provision for the construction of twelve torpedo boats was stricken out and the following substituted: For six light draft composite gunboats of 1,000 tons displacement and no one of which shall cost over $230,000 exclusive of armament, and three torpedo boats at a cost of not exceeding $175,000 each.

No Change is Noticed.

Paris, Feb. 28.—In regard to the difficulty between France and San Domingo, growing out of the non-payment of certain claims by the latter, the United States embassy informs the United Press that there is no change in the situation. At the embassy it was further stated that the protest of the United States was received in a friendly spirit by the French foreign office, but that France was still firm in insisting upon indemnity for the alleged tampering with French consular seals and also for the recent murder of the French merchant, Noel Caccabelli, at Samana Bay.

Not a Good Statue.

Washington, February 28.—The joint library committee of the house and senate to-day decided by a unanimous vote to object the statue of Gen. Grant which was presented some weeks ago to the government by the Grand Army of the Republic. It was decided that the statue was not a correct representatives of General Grant, and that its facial resemblance to the great leader was so imperfect that it would not be recognized unless labelled with the general's name. The statue was chiseled by Franklin Simmons, who modelled the statue of Roger Sherman, which has stood for some years in Statuary hall as the gift of the state of Rhod Island. It was proposed to place it in the main hall of the capitol building, and this intention would doubtless have been carried out but for the decision of the committee not to accept it.

Telegraph Operators Form a Union.

New York, March 3.—A number of telegraph operators of this city met at Clarendon hall to-day and organized the American Telegraph union. There were about 200 operators present.

The meeting was called to order by Robert L. DeAkers, who made an address advocating government control of the telegraph lines of the country. He was followed by others in the same vein, after which the meeting went into secret session.

A committee was then selected from the three companies represented at the meeting, viz: The Western Union, Postal Cable company and the railroad and press wires.

This committee, after a conference, recommended the election of a board of directors to have general charge of the organization until the national convention be held. This was agreed to and the board was elected. It was said by one of the board of directors that there were to be no "officers, no dues, no national councils, nor meetings." This would give the organization the distinction of being the most silent and least expensive society of modern times. The director said the propaganda would be carried on by means of a weekly paper which they start. The members, h said, would meet as emergency required on the call of the board of directors.

It was said that organizations were being formed to-day in Boston, Philadelphia, Chicago and other cities.

Still Going On.

Easton, Pa., February 28.—The senate elections committee in the contested election case of Heller vs Laubach for senator n the Twelfth district began its session here this evening. The senators present were Messrs. Crouse, Osburn, Keefer, Green, Stiles and McCarrell. The returns from the eastern district of Bethlehem township were taken up for examination. But one ballot was questionable in the district—that of Samuel Sterner, whom the contestants claimed moved from New Jersey on June 1, 1892, and then voted at the election on November 6, 1894, for Laubach. The next district to be examined is the Monocacy district of Bethlehem township.

Many Persons are Killed.

City of Mexico, March 1.—The railway accident on the Inter Oceanic railway yesterday occurred at a point forty-two kilometres from this city. It was a special train conveying pilgrims from Amecameca. The train was derailed on a curve in a small cut, and all the cars, ten in number, were completely shattered and splintered. Sixty-five passengers were killed and terribly mutilated, their heads and limbs being torn off their bodies in many instances. Most of the dead were women and children. Forty persons were seriously injured, many of whom will die. All the passengers were Mexicans. The engineer and conductor of the train escaped in the woods after the accident, fearing vengeance from the crowd.

—Mr. Arthur Kitson, of Philadelphia, will give a concert for the benefit of the Presbyterian church, in that edifice, on Friday, March 15th. Everybody is urged to await this affair, which will be one of the best musical entertainments of the season.

NO SECRET

IN THIS WOMAN'S CASE.

Mrs. Campbell Wishes Her Letter Published so that the Truth May Be Known.

[SPECIAL TO OUR LADY READERS.]

Of the thousands of letters received from women all over the world by Mrs. Pinkham, not one is given to the public unless by the wish of the writer. Thus absolute confidence is established between Mrs. Pinkham and her army of patients; and she freely solicits a letter from any woman, rich or poor, who is in ill health or ailing.

In the case of Mary E. Campbell, of Albion, Noble Co., Ind., her suffering was so severe, her relief so suddenly realized, and her gratitude so great, that she wishes the circumstances published, in the hope that others may be benefited thereby. She says:—

"My physician told me I had dropsy and falling of the womb. My stomach and bowels were so bloated I could not get a full breath. My face and hands were bloated badly. I had that dreadful bearing-down pain, backache, palpitation of the heart, and nervousness.

"One of my physicians told me I had something growing in my stomach; and the medicine that I took gave me relief only for a short time. I thought I must die. I began to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and it worked like a charm. After taking the first bottle I could walk across the street, now I am well. I advise all my friends to take it."

IN THE REFORMATORY.

Clinton County's Cost of Maintenance in the Institution.

The biennial report of the Pennsylvania industrial Reformatory for the years 1893-94 has been received at this office. In this report General Superintendent T. B. Patton gives a detailed history of the workings of the institution during the last two years.

The statistics for Clinton county are as follows: The number of inmates in the institution at the close of December 13, 1892, were 3; received in the institution during 1893, 1; transferred to the penitentiary in 1893, 1; remaining in the reformatory at the close of 1893, 1. The exhibit of paroled inmates for the county during the two years show. Remaining on parole at the close of 1892, 2; paroled in 1893, 2; absolute release by the court, 4.

The bill for maintenance is as follows: Four inmates were in the institution during the year 1893, 1,007 days, the tota cost for which was $387.80. Deducting from this amount $55.39, earnings of the inmates, left $332.41. In addition to the above, one inmate before being transferred to the penitentiary was in the reformatory 248 days, the cost of whose maintenance was $90,10, deducting $20.66 which he earned, leaves $69.44, which added to the $332.41, makes a total which the county had to pay in 1893 of $401.85.

During 1894 Clinton county had one inmate in the reformatory; his maintenance amounted to $131.40; he earned $21.90. which deducted from cost of maintenance leaves $109.50. The cost of maintenance of the man in the penitentiary for 1894, which the reformatory had sent to Allegheny in 1893, was $127.75; the convict earned $25.55, which left a net amount of $102.20. The net cost which Clinton county paid for maintenance for the two years it $613.55.

According to the report there were 614 admissions during the last two years, as compared with 591 admissions for the two years ending 1892, and 478 for the two years ending 1890. The highest number confined in the reformatory at one time was 554.

Defender Documents.

Numbers 5 and 72 have just been issued by the American Protective Tariff League. No 5, nineteen pages, entitled "Business Conditions" or "The First Effects of Free Trade," comprises a careful review and compilation of statistics showing disastrous results of a free trade administration. No 72, eight pages, entitled "Wages in the United States," is the translation of a paper by Mons. E. Levasseur, read at the annual public meeting of the five academies of the Institute of France. Both documents are interesting and valuable additions to Protection literature. Will be sent to any address for two cents each. Address W. F. Wakeman, Gen. Sec., 135 23rd St., New York.

Public Employment Office.

Mr. Martin, of Mercer county, yesterday introduced a bill into the house to create a public employment office under the care of the bureau of industrial statistics. The measure provides that it shall be the duty of the chief of the bureau to establish a public employment office in each congressional district and employ a superintendent for each of these offices. The superintendents shall post in front of their offices the words "Public Employment office," and receive applications for labor and make a careful record of each. They may employ clerical assistance and are prohibited from receiving compensation or fee from persons seeking employment. They are required to make report every Tuesday to the commissioner of all applicants and persons securing employment through their office and furnish a printed list every Saturday of applicants and the character of the employment desired by them to each other, to be posted in their respective offices for public inspection. The superintendents shall also collect such labor statistics as the commissioner may direct. The commissioner is to receive a salary of $2,000 a year, the superintendents $1,200 each and the clerks not more than $50 a month.

Getting Ready for the Wedding.

New York, March 3.—The Gould mansion is in the hands of florists to-night. In the morning the final touches will be made and at noon the most gorgeous house wedding probably that this city has ever seen will take place. Several near friends of the couple called at the house late in the day and were shown the presents which are said to be the most valuable ever given to a bride in this country. Several detectives are on guard inside and outside of the house to night and they will remain until the count and countess depart.

It is said that the couple will go to Lakewood to remain until Wednesday, where they will sail for France. Whether this is on the programme or not only the count and one or two others can tell.

A unique feature of to-morrow's proceedings, and which is said to be an idea of Miss Anna Gould's, will be a feast provided for 1,000 poor children at the very hour the ceremony is taking place.

This is richer than any quartz before found in Montana mine.

"Si Perkins" Coming.

The coming of the Burton-Coleman company is looked forward to by our theatre-goers as an evening of laughter, and it is needless to state that these exceptionally clever entrainers will be greeted by a large audience next Thursday evening at the opera house, when they will present the sensational comedy drama, "Si Perkins." It is one of the finest comedies on the road, having a complication of funny situations and amusing incidents that holds the audience in a continual round of merriment. Many specialists are introduced incidental to the play. The company is composed of a number of clever specialties, including Miss Lillie Coleman, who has been endorsed by the press and public as the premier of Spanish dancers, Knox Wilson, the German dialect comedian, Joe Dillon, who has the character of Michael Angelo, has a wide reputation for his clever Irish specialties, while the vocal efforts of Sam J. Burton and the specialties of G. G. Vance and Henry Nicking are sure to prove entertaining and those that want to enjoy a hearty laugh should go to the opera house Thursday evening. Watch for the Hayseed street parade, the funniest on the road. It is better than a circus parade. Concert at 7 o'clock in front of the opera house by the famous Poughtown band.

—We have repeatedly called the attention of our people to the fact that it is time something is being done toward starting a move for Bellefonte's centennial, but thus far the move is one of silence. Won't the Chief Burgess take the matter in hand and call a public meeting for an early date? It is high time something is being done.

WITHOUT THE

Non-pull-out

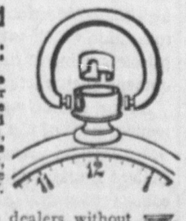
it is easy to steal or ring watches from the pocket. The thief gets the watch in one hand, the chain in the other and gives a short, quick jerk—the ring slips off the watch stem, and away goes the watch, leaving the victim only the chain.

This Idea stopped that little game:



The bow has a groove on each end. A collar runs down inside the pendant (stem) and fits into the grooves, firmly locking the bow to the pendant, so that it cannot be pulled or twisted off.

McCalmont & Co's to Move.

The firm of McCalmont & Co., the large implement dealers of Bellefonte, have rented the property recently occupied by the firm of J. S Waite & Co. on Water street, and, on the first of April, will move their large stock of farm implements, seeds, etc., to that place. There they will have just as much room, if not more, as they do in their present stand, and will be just as convenient to their trads as where they are. The move is made because of a fail ure to effect a satisfactory re-lease of the premises they now occupy.

The rotten floor in a building in process of demolition got in its work Friday, killing five people and injuring twice as many more. The locality was a prominent corner in New York, and the occasion was the tearing down of a condemned building without proper supervision to render the process safe. The victims were workmen, whose lives were sacrificed to the greed of a contractor and the inefficiency of the Bureau of Building Inspection.

The greed of contractors can always be counted on, and for this reason building inspectors are appointed; but in New York, as in other cities, inspectors fail to inspect, with results of which yesterday's crash was an average example. If there was some way of substituting a few funerals of contractors and inspectors for those of the men who are usually the victims of the greed of the one and the neglect of the other there would be a marked decrease in accidents of this class.

The free pipe line bill passed by the Legislature of 1883 afforded great relief to the individual producers in the oil country, and its action as a check on the Standard monopoly was of a material benefit. The Marshal pipe line repeal bill, that has just passed the House and is now before the Senate, does just the opposite.

This is a measure entirely in the interest of the Standard monopoly, and was vetoed by Governor Pattison because it was just that sort of grind and crush legislature that monopoly demands. Can Governor Hastings sign it? The independent oil producers and refiners want to conduct their business in competitive markets and in their own way. This they can do under the present law. The Marshall pipe line repeal bill denies them all existing rights against an arbitrary, tyrannical and gigantic corporation.

Will Governor Hastings maintain "the the honor of the Commonwealth and the happiness and prosperity of her people," as he declares in his inaugural address, by refusing to sign a measure of the Marshall type?

Some Practical Facts About This Noble Organization.

Every evening in the week a large number of young men are found in the gymnasium, despite the fact that there are so many counter attractions to keep them away. Their presence and interest shows their appreciation for what is being done for them by the contributors to the work. These young men will soon take upon themselves the duties of life; and the Association will find in them lasting friends. Every young man in Bellefonte should avail himself of these privileges. And, especially, to all the members we would advise regular exercise if they wish to receive benefit. Regular and judicious exercise will develop and educate the muscles, build up the physique symmetrically, expands the chest, assists digestion, tones the nervous system, helps one to walk erect, with shoulders back and down, cures dyspepsia, and will make you a better natured man. Try it.

A suggestion; It would be a very happy state of affairs, but perhaps too much to ask for, if all who have hampered the Association by criticism, would now try to see something good and useful in it. It has its faults but there is a steady effort toward improvement.

You will often see the stone steps at the entrance to liquor saloons worn deeply by those whose "feet go down to death." It is an inspiration to Association workers to find that the feet of the hundreds who find healthful enjoyments in the building, are making perceptible impression on the stone of our steps. As one increases the other decreases.

Never in the history of the Association have the books in the library been in such demand as they are now, proving that the young men are anxious to read good books. The usefulness of the library is daily on the increase; and the day is not far off when the library will become an important factor in our work. A good public library in the town will be of lasting benefit to the people, and it is the purpose of the Association to supply this long felt necessity. You will hear more of this later. Keep it in mind.

We have a few young men (every Association has them) who use all our privileges except the bath and gymnasium (and they would use them if they could) and yet they never think of taking out a membership in the Association. They probably think we live on "wind," and that other people pay the bills, so they can have the privileges free.

John Sunday.

The sad intelligence was received by friends in Centre county, of the death of John Sunday, known as "Honest John," in Berrien county, Michigan. He was born in Potter township, near the Stone mill, January 15th, 1819, where he spent his youthful days, and in 1841 he married Miss Sarah Brininger, a Union county lady; to them three sons and two daughters were born.

From 1863 to 1869 he was engaged in farming in Ferguson township. In the spring of 1869 he with his family moved west locating in Berrien county, Michigan, where he soon became a prominent citizen, and gained the love and esteem of all his neighbors, who with his wife and one son, Emanuel, and two daughters, Mrs. Gates and Mrs. J. Gephart, mourn the death of the head-light of another family. His church and county will miss his benevolence and council. His son Emanuel of Ferguson township, attended the funeral at Berrien Springs, Michigan, Jan. 31st.

Holmes—McCalmont.

At noon Thursday the marriage of Clayton Holmes and Miss Mary Woods McCalmont, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James S. McCalmont, was solmenized at the home of the bride near State College. Rev. James Heany officiated and the ceremony was performed in the presence of the immediate friends of the young people.

The groom is a young merchant, doing a good business at State College. and is a son of Mr. James Holmes, of that place. His bride is an intelligent, accomplished girl, whose bright disposition won her many friends while going to school in this place, where she was well known. They will go to house keeping at State College.

Christian Endeavor Sociable.

Thursday evening of this week the Christian Endeavor Society of Bellefonte will hold a sociable in the Presbyterian chapel. Among the many attractions of the evening will be music by an old fashioned choir and also a song by two young gentlemen attired as colored girls. The song will be entitled "Two little school girls," These sociables are very entertaining, and all who go will certainly have a pleasant time. Strangers will be made to feel perfectly at home. Refreshments will be served during the evening, and an admittance of ten cents will be charged.

What He May Make.

Governor Hastings has exhibited an independence in dealing with bills passed by the Legislature which was scarcely expected of him, notwithstanding his known decision of character. A Governor, no mater what his character may be, usually yields to the legislative judgment of his party associates in matters of detail involving no party principles, but Governor Hastings has vetoed two bills to increase the number of Judges, rightly considering that it is his prerogative to consider bills independently, and that he is mutually responsible with the Legislature for all legislation. He has further given the Legislature a timely and greatly needed message on the subject of extravagance, especially with regard to its creation of new offices and employes, whose additional services are not necessary, and who are on the pay-rolls only that more practical politicians may have jobs at the cost of the State. If he should keep this principle in mind throughout his Administration Governor Hastings will become one of the distinguished Governors of the State.—Philadelphia Ledger.

Celery for Rheumatism.

It said that no class suffer more with rheumatism than the farmers, and yet the remedy for this dread disease is, or should be right at hand. If celery were eaten more freely sufferers from rheumatism would be comparatively few. It is a mistaken idea that cold and damp produce the disease; they simply develop it. When celery is eaten largely an alkaline blood is the result, and where this exists there can be neither rheumatism nor gout. It should not only be eaten raw, but cooked. Cut it into small pieces and boil till soft in as little water as possible. Add to this a little rich milk, thicken slightly with flour and season with butter, pepper and salt. The tender leaves and small ends of the stalks which are usually thrown away, should be used in soups; cut fine and use for vegetable soup, or dry the large leaves crumble them to powder and use for seasoning for other soups. And no part of the celery may be wasted.

Away With Them.

There are nine classes of people who are no good to a town. First, those who go out of town to do their trading; second, those opposing improvements; third, those who prefer a quiet town to one of push and business; fourth, those who imagine they own their town; fifth, those who think business can be done without advertising; sixth, those who deride public spirited men; seventh, those who oppose every movement that does not originate with themselves; eighth, those who oppose every public enterprise that does not benefit themselves; ninth, those who seek to injure the credit of a fellow townsman.

The Date Changed.

At a meeting of the District Firemen's Association held at Osceola on Monday the time for holding the annual convention, which was to have taken place at Bellefonte on Friday, June 7th, was changed to Thursday, June 6th. The change was made on account of Friday being too near the end of the week to suit many of those who would have far to go.

—Thursday evening the Christian Endeavor Society will hold an old-fashioned social in the Presbyterian chapel on Spring street. There will be a pleasant time guaranteed to all who may attend. Choice refreshments will be served and you can get there for the small price of 10 cents, Everybody invited and everybody go.

THE BRADFIELD REGULATOR CO., Sole Proprietors, ATLANTA, GA.

The Company Stores Act.

Judge Ewing, of the Fayette Courts, hands down a decision to the effect that employes cannot recover wages deducted from a running account at any company stores where orders had been given a credit sales or purchases. The decision declares further that the act of May, 1891, regulating company stores, is unconstitutional in that it is in restraint of trade, against public policy and inpairs the obligation of contracts.

This is good law and will be so recognized. Efforts have been made heretofore to test the constitutionality of the company stores act, but nothing has resulted from it. The decision of Judge Ewing, however, covers a situation in which elements of disturbance have long prevailed.

The company store is confined generally to the coal, coke and lumber sections of the State. In a number of small towns no other store can exist. In certain trading centres the combiney the banking feature with those of barter and sale. Abuses have crept into their management from time to time, such as the pass book and the wages card, which have repeatedly deprived the miners from dealing elsewhere and compelled them to sign over their monthly accounts. This in turn has been productive of great hardship, and independent of the fact that employes have been denied the right to purchase in other places to better advantage is the truth that miners and cokesters could not better their condition by removal to another field, inasmuch as their entire income was cut off by the operations of the company whose management kept them also in debt.

The Ewing decision is proper, because it compels irresponsible parties to pay for what they get. It clears up scores and credits voluntarily entered upon, and destroys debts built up through orders. This it accomplishes by compelling honesty. But the law that governs company stores as they now exist, and makes honesty and fair dealing necessary on the part of the owners is the law that is yet to come and that is sorely needed. The miners and cokesters require protection against unscrupulous men and speculators. They are more often robbed through the order system by the heavy per cent. added to the fixed profit mark as a premium than they are treated fairly. And if the Ewing decision impels legislation on this line it will be the means of a great public reform.

It Was Butter.

The packages receiving second and third prizes at a recent meeting of the State Dairymen's Association, and afterwards claimed to have been butterine, have been subjected to a chemical analysis by the Experiment Station at State College. The results show a striking agreement in composition between this questioned article and pure butter and a wide and essential difference between it and butterine or oleomargarine.

As soon as the charges that the committee had awarded prizes to artificial product were published, Prof. Waters, of State College, member of the committee, secured a sample of the disputed packages from Mr. Palm, editor of The Meadville Messenger, who attempted to perpetrate the joke by entering them as butter in the name of a local dairyman, and afterwards announced through the press that they were butterine. These samples were sent to the Experiment Station under seal by the Secretary of the Association. The tabulated results together with a statement of the range in composition of pure butter, oleomargarine, butterine follow:

	Melting Point	Saponification Equivalent	Volatile Fatty Acids.	Curd
	Degrees
Centrifugal.
Butter...	29-35	226.5-260.7	13.5-36.4	.19-4.78
Oleomargarine	34-40	274	0.7	.62
Butterine.....	34-40	274-290	0.4-8.6	.74-1.82
Meadville Sample	34.1	256.7	25.6	9.

The most distinctive and infallible measure of the purity of butter products is the contents of the volatile fatty acids. The figures for pure commercial butter produced under ordinary conditions may be placed at from 20 to 26. The Meadville sample shows 25.6 while the maxium for commercial butterine is 8.6 and for olemargarine is .7. The results clearly vindicate the decision of the Committee on awards and indicate that Mr. Palm either knowingly made a false statement concerning the genuiness of the article, or was a victim of deception and fraud by the manufacturers of butterine in Chicago from whom he obtained the samples for exhibition.

Charlie Valentine Not Guilty.

At the trial in Salt Lake City last week Charlie Valentine was acquitted of all charges lodged against him by old Mr. Mulvaney, with whom he had been traveling, until accused of drugging him for the purpose of alienating Mrs. Mulvaney's affections.

The story of Charlie's supposed escapade was published in a highly colored account by some of the papers of this place and now that he has been acquitred by a court of justice it is made most evident that a good bit of the story must have been false.

—The "Hornet" last week has quite a lengthy explanation as to why McQuistion was not elected justice of the peace, and, so far as we could see, the main reason given was because Keichline got more votes than he (McQuistion) did. But this reason was a sufficient one.

AN AWFUL EXPLOSION.

A $75,000 Business Block in Anderson, Ind., Demolished.

Anderson, Ind., March 5.—The most destructive natural gas explosion in the history of the Indiana gas belt occurred here at 4 o'clock this morning. A $75,000 business block, on the court house square, was blown over the central part of the city. In the building were the Cohen clothing store, Prather's shoe store, Hadley's drug store and a large number of business offices and halls on the upper floor.

Fire followed the explosion, which was like an earthquake, and the remains of the debris began burning fiercely. The entire fire department was called out and prevented the fire from reaching the new court house. Attorney Ballard and County Commissioner Metcalf lived in rooms above the Cohen and it is feared they have perished.

The loss on the building and contents is total, and will reach $400,000. The fronts of all business houses in the neighborhood of the explosion were demolished paved streets ripped open and telephone cables torn down.

How the explosion occurred is a mystery. It was just about daylight that the shock was felt, which shook everything within the corporate limits of Anderson, and sent pieces of wood and glass, office furniture and bricks flying in all directions.

In addition to the demolition of the Terhune block, the explosion did much damage to the court house and other buildings, which were struck by missiles.

As soon as the explosion took place, fire started on the ruins, but the flames had little to work upon save wreckage and other buildings were not in danger. The Terhune block was occupied on the ground floor by a large clothing store and several general merchandise establishments, while the upper floor was used for offices. The contents of the store were scattered everywhere, while not so much as a respectable line of samples could be secured from the ruins.

The buildings and contents are covered by insurance of more than $200,000.

The Divorce Granted.

New York, March 5.—Judge Barrett, of the supreme court this afternoon granted a decree of absolute divorce in favor of Mrs. Alva E. Vanderbilt, from her husband W. K. Vanderbilt, the well-known millionaire. As all of the testimony and the reports of the referee have been sealed no facts can be ascertained as to the parties who are implicated with Mr. Vanderbilt. Although a liberal allowance has been granted Mrs. Vanderbilt, there is no record of the sum which her husband has agreed to give her. The only paper which the public can examine is the decree of divorce. Mrs. Vanderbilt is to have the custody of her three children.

The degree is granted upon the report of Edmund Kelley, who was appointed to hear and determine all the issue involved.

The referee found all the allegations in the complaint to be true; that Mrs. Vanderbilt was entitled to her decree of divorce, and that she should also have custody of the three children.

Mr. Vanderbilt raised the issue as to the allegations of the divorce in his answer by denying the charges made in the complaint Under the decree Mrs. Vanderbilt can remarry, but Mr. Vanderbilt is forbidden to do so.

Mrs. Lincoln's Sister Retained.

Washington, March 5.—The President before he went to North Carolina on the Violet made a number of recess appointments. They were men who failed of confirmation by the Senate. He failed, however, to name Frank Joplin as postmaster at Elizabethtown, Ky. Joplin was nominated to succeed Mrs. Helm, the present postmistress, who is a sister of Mrs. Lincoln. The Senate refused to confirm Joplin because it would remove Mrs. Helm, and the President seems to have seen the danger of running counter to public sentiment by turning out a relative of Lincoln.

Nutt Held for Trial.

Atchison, Kas. March 5.—James Nutt, formerly of Uniontown, Pa., and the slayer of Lyman Dukes, who made a murderous assault on Mrs. Jessie Payton and Leonard Coleman last month, had his preliminary hearing to-day and was bound over for trial in the District court in $10,000 bail. In default of bond he was remanded in jail. Nutt's trial will occur during the April term.

Mrs. Payton has not recovered sufficiently to give her testimony.

Horrible Torture of a Babe.

York, Pa., March 5.—Mrs. Frederick Toney to-day tied her babe in a chair and went visiting. A spark fell from the stove during her absence, setting fire to the floor. The flames soon filled the room with smoke, and as the fire came nearer the little one it screamed in fright and pain. The child was large enough to have escaped had it not been bound. Soon the fire got so close that it began to scorch the babe's hands and feet. William Aust detected the fire, broke into the house and rescued the little one from its horrible slow torture. It was so badly burned, however, that it will likely die.

A young woman who suffered for years from what the doctors called "nervous dyspepsia," wishes me to state to my readers that she has been completely cured by dropping medicine and living almost entirely upon Bovinine.

This I am very glad to do for I have, in scores of instances, seen the excellent effect of this liquid preparation of the purest beef upon friends and acquaintances. I have known it used also with the best effect upon young children, and even those that were irritable and ill during the teething process. Bovinine is always safe, and I have never yet heard of an instance that it did not strengthen and build up. This is owing to the fact of its making no tax upon the digestion, and because of its perfect assimilative qualities. For those who are apprehensive of grippe, this benign preparation acts like a charm.

Pennsylvania Railroad's Second Tour to "The Golden Gate."

The large number of people who have leisure, and the growing desire of Americans to see the wonders of their native land, are the principal agencies in advancing a healthy sentiment in favor of travel.

The Pennsylvania Railroad Company's personally-conducted tours to California will be conducted in all respects as those of preceeding years, with some added advantages, which cannot fail to attract the attention and enlist the interest of the tourist.

In addition to the high grade accommodations and entertainment in transit, the Pennsylvania tourists are treated with the same liberality wherever the journey is broken. The choicest rooms in the leading hotels are always reserved for their use, for which regular rates are paid, so that the guests, although members of a large party, enjoy all the privileges of individuals who may have made their own selections.

The second tour in the 1895 series to the Golden Gate will leave New York and Philadelphia March 20, 1895, arriving at San Francisco March 29, and at New York and Philadelphia May 16, 1895.

THE NEW PARTY'S PLEA.

An Address to the People by the American Bimetallic League.

WASHINGTON, March 6.—The American Bimetallic League issues an address to the people calling for the organization of a new national party. The address is in part as follows:

The money question is now indisputably the dominant issue in the United States, and will remain so until settled, and settled rightly. Other questions, however important, must wait for this, which, to a greater or less extent, involves all others. The issue is between the gold standard, gold bonds and bank currency on the one side, and the bimetallic standard, no bonds and government currency on the other.

On this issue we declare ourselves to be unalterably opposed to the single gold standard, and demand the immediate return to the constitutional standard of gold and silver, by the restoration by this government independently of any foreign power, of the unrestricted coinage of both silver and gold into standard money, at the ratio of 16 to 1, and upon terms of exact equality; the silver coin to be a full legal tender, equally with gold, for all debts and dues, public and private.

We hold that the power to control and regulate a paper currency is inseparable from the power to coin money, and hence that all currency intended to circulate as money should be issued and its volume controlled by the general government only, and should be legal tender.

We are unalterably opposed to the issue by the United States of interest bearing bonds in time of peace, and demand the payment of all coin obligations of the United States, as provided by existing law, in either gold or silver coin, and at the option of the government, and not at the option of the creditor. On this issue we appeal from the dictation of the money power to the intelligence and patriotism of the American people.

The address is signed by the executive committee of the league, including President A. J. Warner, Senators Jones and Stewart, and Congressman McLaurin.

Nominations That Failed.

WASHINGTON, March 5.—Comparatively few presidential nominations were allowed to fail this session for want of action by the senate. The list of failures includes twenty-five or thirty postmasters, including Frank W. Joplin at Elizabethtown, Ky., who was to succeed Emily T. Helm, a relative of the late President Lincoln. Among other nominations that failed of confirmation were: M. L. Marbury, to be United States district attorney for the district of Maryland; Arthur P. Greely of Concord, N. H., and John H. Brickenstein of Lititz, Pa., now principal examiners at the patent office, to be examiners in chief.

Boys Fooled with Dynamite.

UNIONTOWN, Pa., March 6.—John and James Mellon, Herman Christ, Peter Gilsson and five other youthful companions were badly injured in an explosion of dynamite while attempting to blast out a ground hog. The blast was not ignited, and the boys began to drill it out. An explosion followed, and the youthful hunters were blown some distance. The drill was blown through John Mellon's arm and that member nearly severed. His brother's eyes were blown out, and all the other boys were painfully injured.

Aged Paupers in a Fatal Fight.

LANCASTER, Pa., March 6.—John Siebelist and Isaac Evans, aged inmates of the county almshouse, between whom bad feeling has existed for several weeks past, quarreled in the grounds of the institution. Siebelist knocked Evans down and it is alleged, kicked him as he lay prostrate. Evans was picked up unconscious and died shortly afterwards. The physicians say that death was due to heart disease, brought on by the beating. The latter is now locked up. Both men are about 70 years old.

Suspended from the Ministry.

SYRACUSE, March 6.—Rev. Franklin J. Holzwarth, formerly pastor of the Woodlawn Evangelical church in this city and instructor in German in Syracuse university, after an exciting church trial, was yesterday found guilty of circulating reports derogatory to a member of his former congregation and suspended from the ministry until the sitting of the conference of the State Evangelical association at Niagara Falls next month. Bishop Bowman, of Chicago, presided at the trial.

Another Murder for Insurance.

ST. THOMAS, Ont., March 6.—John Henderscott and William Welter were placed upon trial yesterday for the murder of William Hendershott last December. Welter had reported that Hendershott had been killed by a falling tree, but the testimony at the inquest showed that the man had been murdered and $11,000 insurance had been collected by John Hendershott, his uncle, on the life of the deceased.

The Advance in Pensions.

WASHINGTON, March 6.—The officials of the pension bureau will soon take active measures to put into operation the recent legislation advancing all pensioners receiving less than $6 a month to that rating. It is estimated that 40,000 cases will be affected by the legislation, and will involve an increase of about $1,500,000. The bureau has given notice that pushing of individual cases will be unnecessary.

Embezzling Bankers Sentenced.

NEW BLOOMFIELD, Pa., March 6.—Yesterday William A. Sponsler and Benjaman F. Junkin, the ex-bankers, convicted of embezzlement, were brought before Judge Bell for sentence. The judge imposed a fine of $20 each and costs and imprisonment in the Eastern penitentiary for one year. The case will be appealed to the supreme court.

Woman Suffrage Defeated.

BOSTON, March 6.—The bill to grant full municipal suffrage to women in Massachusetts was defeated in the lower legislative body by a vote of 127 to 87. The question was on ordering the bill to a third reading. The motion brought out an immense audience of women and occasioned lively debate by the legislators.

Our Presidential Sportsman.

WASHINGTON, March 6.—The president, accompanied by Dr. O'Reilly, his physician; Commander George F. F. Wilde, of the lighthouse board, and Commander Lamberton, inspector of the fifth lighthouse district, left here on the Violet for a ten days' shooting on the inland waters of North Carolina.

PLANS FOR SAFETY.

ning People Will Seek Refuge in the School House.

Kittanning, Pa., March 4.—The Kittanning people will be housed in the public school buildings, court house and jail when the ice begins to move, for all agree that a quantity of water sufficient to move the gorge will flood the whole lower portion o the town. To-night there is a temporary relief from the anxiety, owing to the freeze-up, but it will make the situation only more serious and increase the alarm over what is to come when the thaw does come. It is feared the gorge will freeze fast at the bridge and make an immovable dam. The river dropped two feet to-day and let the ice down with it.

A trip to Mahoning to-day showed the same condition there as was reported yesterday, with the exception that the water has fallen about two feet. Many heavily laden cars now hold down the bridge. There is already two feet of water in the distillery, and much whisky has already been destroyed. Three miles up the Mahoning creek the ice is piled fifty feet high about Reedy's mill, which will in all probability be swept away. Below the Mahoning a deluge poured over some farm lands as it did yesterday.

Both railroad officials and workmen were on the ground all day to-day, hard at work to prepare for the loss which is to come to them. The destruction of both bridges, the old Thompson hotel at Templeton, many dwellings and a sawmill now seem inevitable, judging from the stage of water yesterday which failed to move the gorge.

Ford City is now threatened with a destructive overflow, owing to the two islands a mile below at Rosston. On the left of them the ice is gorged and Crooked creek has yet to come out. A big gorge is very probable at Rosston, thereby submerging Ford City entirely.

Probable Murder in Huntingdon Co.

Huntingdon, Pa., March 4.—News has reached here of a probable murder committed at Mill Creek last night. Cloyd Coy, aged 11, sat directly behind David Wilson, aged 21, in the First Methodist church, and found great pleasure in sticking gum in Wilson's hair. Wilson remonstrated, and threatened to smack Coy's mouth. This angered Coy, who drew a large knife and began whetting it on his shoe, remarking to a companion that he would "cut Wilson's heart out." As soon as services were over and the congregation was leaving the church, Coy thrust the knife into Wilson's abdomen. Physicians think the victim will die. Coy has been arrested.

A New Fruit Pest.

The State Board of Agriculture has sent out circulars announcing that a new fruit pest called the "San Jose Scale" has made its appearance on the western slope and will advance eastward. By addressing Thomas J. Edge, Secretary of the State Board of Agriculture at Harrisburg, Pa., full particulars regarding the best means of destroying it may be obtained.

DR. G. C. OSGOOD, Lowell, Mass.

"Castoria is the best remedy for children of which I am acquainted. I hope the day is not far distant when mothers will consider the real interest of their children, and use Castoria instead of the various quack nostrums which are destroying their loved ones, by forcing opium, morphine, soothing syrup and other hurtful agents down their throats, thereby sending them to premature graves."
DR. J. F. KINCHELOE, Conway, Ark.

Castoria.

"Castoria is so well adapted to children that I recommend it as superior to any prescription known to me."
H. A. ARCHER, M. D., 111 So. Oxford St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

"Our physicians in the children's department have spoken highly of their experience in their outside practice with Castoria, and although we only have among our medical supplies what is known as regular products, yet we are free to confess that the merits of Castoria has won us to look with favor upon it."

Felt Weak and Dizzy. Had Indigestion. Stomach Bloated. Pain and Distress in Stomach.

Joseph E. Hood, of 129 Front Street, Woonsocket, R. I., speaks as follows in regard to his recent illness:—

"I felt weak and dizzy in the morning, and my stomach would not digest well, and made me feel so it would burst. I had excruciating pain in the pit of my stomach at times. I used Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy, and every dose gave me relief the moment I took it. The pain is all gone and I feel strong all day—in fact, I feel like a new man. I would not be without Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy in the house."

Weak, Tired and Nervous.

MRS. J. W. BEALE.

Mrs. J. W. Beale, who resides at 52 Eastern Avenue, Worcester, Mass., makes the following statement:—

"I was sick for more than seven years, not able to do my housework for five years. I employed more than sixteen different doctors without benefit. The whole length of my spine was very bad, which went to my head, being so bad that it was about impossible for me to stoop to the floor, or turn my head to the right or left, my neck was so stiff.

"I was unable to comb my hair, the nerves of my head were so sore. I also had convulsions and kidney trouble.

"After a time I was persuaded to use Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy. Words cannot express my wonderful cure! Now all is changed, and I am strong and well, and able to do all my work. I have gained 26 pounds in weight, and where before all was gloom and despondency, there is now light and hope.

"Words cannot express my feelings! Thanks to God, and the wonderful medicine, Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy, I am cured. I write this with the desire that others may be influenced to use this wonderful medicine as I did and be cured.

Liver and Bowels out of order. Nerves weak. Could not sleep:

Mr. James Meehan, who resides at 57 Granite Street, Quincy, Mass., says:—

"I was taken sick with liver disease and ulceration of the bowels. My heart was also affected. I was confined to my bed three months.

"A consultation of physicians was held, and I was pronounced incurable.

"After that I stopped taking their remedies, and began the use of Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy.

MR. JAMES MEEHAN.

"Previous to this I could not sleep, my nerves were excitable and spasmodic, my stomach would not bear food, vomiting almost constantly. Soon after beginning this remedy I slept better, and my stomach would bear light food.

"I continued to gain until I could get out. I now work all the time, and feel that Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy saved my life."

He was made well by Dr. Greene's Nervura Blood and Nerve Remedy.

To Effect a Combination.

The Philadelphia Times says that the Pennsylvania railroad company has taken the lead in a movement to effect a combination of soft coal interest shipping to tidewater. Each year about this time an effort of similar import is started. It has usually ended with indifferent results. The failure has been attributed to the lack of interest taken by the transporting companies or to their refusal to co-operate The plan proposed to govern the trade of 1895 provides, among other things, that each producer be allowed an output equal to the average of the last five years. Any excess shall be assessed ten cents per ton. The execution of the plan is calculated to give producers ninety cents per ton at the mine. The trade entertains many doubts as to the ability of the companies to carry out such a scheme.

The Average Man

who suffers from headaches and biliousness needs a medicine to keep his stomach and liver in good working order. For such people Ripan's Tabules fill the bill. One Tabule gives relief.

Fined $50 Each.

Some time ago the Danville Insane Asylum obtained judgments against the poor overseer of Bellefonte borough for sums aggregating almost one thousand dollars. Repeated efforts were made by the attorneys for the asylum to have the overseers pay the judgment, but all effort were in vain. Finally a writ of attachment was issued to the sheriff to bring the overseer before the court and this they also ignored. The whole thing result in both the overseers being brought into court this morning on a charge of contempt and they were fined by Judge Love $50 each; the fine, however, to be revoked if the judgment is paid off within five days.

Sent to Penitentiary.

New Bloomfield, Pa., March 5—William A. Sponsler and Benjamin F. Junkin proprietors of the defunct Perry County bank, who were convicted of embezzlement in November last, were to-day sentenced by Judge Bell to one year's imprisonment each, in the Eastern penitentiary. Tue bank of which Sponsler was president closed its doors on March 24. 1894, and an assignment was made to C. H. Smiley and H. N. Seibert. When the assignees took charge, they found the assets to be $297 in cash, and notes aggregating less than $8,000, with liabilities of $120,000. An investigation of the books showed the bank to have been insolvent since 1878.

Sponsler, Junkin and James Willis the latter the cashier, were indicted under the act of May, 1879, and the proprietors were convicted of embezzlement, the cashier being used as a state witness, a nolle pros. being entered in this case. The case will be appealed to the supreme court.

Pottstown, March 5. This morning's session of the conference of the East Pennsylvania Evangelical Association was consumed in hearing the report of committees. Presiding Elder Weand was elected a delegate to the Missionary Society to the General Conference, and C. F. Fehr, alternate.

Holman Breaks the Record.

Washington, March 5.—William S. Holman, of Indiana, who ended his service as Congressman yesterday, is the only representative who ever served 30 years. It has been a tradition that a Congressman must die before he has rounded out 15 terms, but Judge Holman has broken the record. He and his friends have been apprehensive for the last two months lest he would die before his term expired, and now that he has gotten safely past the danger point, his friends are predicting his return to Congress two years hence.

The Review of Reviews for March agitates for improved national and municipal public buildings in this country. The editor severely criticises the architectural results of the immense expenditures made for Uncle Sam's housing during the past thirty years, and pertinently asks why the government cannot secure the quality of architectural genius to plan its business structures to stand for decades which the World's Fair management was able to employ on its temporary buildings?

Close of the Fifty-Third Congress.

Washington, March 4.—The Fifty-third congress came to an end to-day with the usual interesting incidents. In the senate the closing scene was marked with the dignity which characterizes that body on formal occasions of state, in the presence of as many spectators as could possibly crowd into the galleries. Hundreds and hundreds of others were disappointed in their endeavors to witness the end, and were obliged to content themselves with standing in line outside the entrances to the galleries. That the house is actually as well as constitutionally "The popular branch of the legislature" was amply proved by the flattering attendance of spectators. Those who failed to find seats there wandered over to the senate only to be again disappointed, and the philosophic ones contented themselves with attending the session of the supreme court.

Thursday Night's Show.

At the opera house Thursday evening the attraction will be that well known comedy, "Si Perkins." The play as a mirth provoker meets all the requirements, as from beginning to end it is one continuous round of merriment, having a good plot, and is made up by the funniest of dialogue, amusing incidents and laughable complications, together with specialties of every description, which are interwoven with the farcical situation of each act. For the present season many novel features have been added, while all that proved to entertaining heretofore are retained. Prominent in the cast are Sam. J. Burton, as Si Perkins, traveling agent of the Agitator threshing machine; Miss Lillie Coleman as "Zana;" Lon Hascal as "Israel Budge;" Miss Rose Brockway in the character parts of "Betsy" and the "Old Gypsy," and many other well known character actors. A large audience should greet this deserving company, as a pleasing entertainment is assured.

D., Rector of the Church of the Holy Sepulchre, New York, who is also an author of widely known reputation, and for twenty years a Chaplain in the British Army at Peshawar, Afghanistan. Like "The Volunteer Organist," he, too, is a volunteer.

DR. KILMER & CO., BINGHAMTON, N. Y.

From Prominent People.

A great many persons to our knowledge have voluntarily pronounced Dr. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy successful in curing them of disease. Here are a number of statements that again demonstrate the value of this medicine.

Commander James S. Dean, of Gen. Grant Post, G. A. R., Rondout, N. Y., contracted an aggravated stomach trouble, which resulted in chronic dyspepsia. He suffered misery until he used Dr. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy. "After using it a week," says Commander Dean, "I felt better, and in a short while was entirely cured, that terrible distress and food breaking up sour in my throat had all gone."

Rev. I. W. Hill, Pastor Methodist Church, Accord, N. Y.: I can speak highly of Dr. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy as a blood medicine. Ten years ago I had a cancer removed from my lip. I then began the use of Dr. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy and to this day no sign of the ugly thing has reappeared."

The Sisters of Charity, Saint Mary's Female Hospital, Brooklyn, N. Y., say: "The satisfaction we realize from the use of Dr. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy surpass all expectation."

The worst cases of eczema, salt rheum and scrofula yield to its curative power, nervousness, sleeplessness, liver and kidney complaints and all urinary troubles are cured by its use.

—The chicken and waffle supper in the Y. M. C. A. rooms on Tuesday evening, under the auspices of the ladies of the M. E. church, was well attended and proved a delightful occasion in more ways than one. It was a place where everybody who attended got a good meal at a low price and the receipts netted the ladies quite a nice little sum. There was plenty for everybody and all seemed to enjoy themselves.

—The cry of the auctioneer at public sales throughout the county is now being heard, and will continue to be heard from this time on until the first of April, as there is a large list of sales throughout the county.

The Golden Star Gold Mining Company

OF MONTANA.

Capital $300,000 divided into 300,000 shares of $1 par value each.

Non-assessable forever.

This company owns two gold mines located in a county which produced $40,000,000 in gold in six years. Has 45 acres of virgin land. Has 500 feet of underground work in shape of shafts and tunnels. Has ore in sight worth $100 per ton. Has assays from $25 to $1,500 per ton. Has shipped ore netting $36 per ton. Has such a small capitalization, only 300,000 shares and not 2,000,000 shares as other companies.

The company intends to sink a shaft through this rich $100 ore vein to a depth of several hundred feet, in order to be able to produce largely for the benefit of the stockholders which will get this profit in large monthly dividends. Hence the company offers a small amount of its stock at the extremely low price of 40 cents a share.

These shares are the investment on the financial market to-day and are better than Government Bonds as they will pay bigger interest.

THE G. A. R.

The Williamsport Encampment Finally Adjourns.

Williamsport, Pa., Feb. 27.—The Grand Army encampment concluded its labors to-day and adjourned sine die. The morning session consisted of the installation of the newly elected officers and the adoption of the reports of committees. Among the resolutions adopted were the following:

Resolved, That hereafter it will be an offense, punishable by law, for any person not entitled, or who is unworthy, to wear a G. A. R. badge or button.

Resolved, That regimental histories be published and that the state be asked for an appropriation to assist in securing well authenticated data.

Resolved, That the law placing Mexican soldiers on the rolls at 62 years, be amended to apply to soldiers of the republic.

Resolved, That the proper authorities of the department of Pennsylvania request the national encampment to change the date of the annual encampment to a summer month (probably July).

Resolved, That the Grand Army of the Republic is in favor of equitable and just pensions to all soldiers of the republic.

Resolved, That the committee on resolutions ask the legislature to make an appropriation sufficient to maintain the standing of the Grand Army of the Republic in its charitable work to old soldiers and their orphans.

The resolution asking that the name of Pension Commissioner Lochren be dropped from the lists of the Grand Army of the Republic was reported negatively by the committee, they deeming it out of the jurisdiction of the encampment.

The council of administration made a report which was adopted. The reports of department officials were also adopted.

Greetings on behalf of the Ladies of the G. A. R. were extended by a committee of the Ladies of the G. A. R., consisting of Mrs. M. G. Lawrence, circle 67, Philadelphia; Mrs. M. J. Turner, circle 60, Allegheny, and Mrs. H. N. Ward, circle 45, Philipsburg, Centre county.

Department Commander Cumings at once appointed James S. Morrison, assistant adjutant general, and Abraham Levering, assistant quarter master general.

After balloting for national delegates the vote, which will not be counted until it reaches headquarters at Philadelphia, a committee consisting of Mrs. Morrison, of Smethport; Mrs. Cumings, of Tideoute, and Mrs. Bronson, from the Woman's Relief corps, extended greetings on behalf of the Woman's Relief corps. The encampment then adjourned.

Slattery Talks.

Savannah, Ga., February 28.—A guard of fifty police surrounded the Odd Fellows' hall duridg ex Priest Slattery's lecture to-night. Several hundred people gathered in the street, drawn by curiosity. There was no disturbance, however. The police kept the crowd moving. Several hundred people were in the hall and listened to the lecture, which was a discussion of the theology of the Roman Catholic church and an alleged expose of the secrets of the confessional. The lecturer dealt largely in ridicule and satire. The crowd in the hall was quiet and orderly and seemingly in sympathy with the lecturer. At the close of the lecture Slattery announced that A. P. A. organizers would be in Savannah within twenty-four hours. He said that he was a member of the American Protective association but denied that he was a representative of the organization. The crowds outside waited for Slattery's appearance and there were fears that an attempt must be made to attack him. A detail of police was drawn up in front of the hall entrance and escorted the expriest to his hotel. Eleven arrests have been made so far for part been made so far for participation in Monday night's disturbance. Three were given ten days in jail and one was fined $10. Seven are yet to be given a hearing. Slattery announced to-night that he would go from here to Atlanta.

Was Practically Starved.

Philadelphia, February 28.—Just as he was about to be taken to a hospital to be cared for, Lambert Deakons, aged 50 years died to-day at his humble home. The death of the man brings to light a pitiful story of want. He had been a sufferer from asthma but managed to work at odd jobs and provide a little food for himself and his equally sick and feeble wife. For the last four weeks Deakons has been confined to his bed. His wife could not earn anything, and all that has sustained them has been the food that was supplied by neighbors. Somebody notified the police of the couples' sad plight and a patrol wagon was sent to remove the man to the hospital. The officers found the pair without food or fire. They placed the emaciated form of the sick man on a stretcher, but as they were about to lift him to the wagon he gasped for breath. Then they brought him back into the hallway and he breathed his last before he could again be placed in bed. He was literally starved to death.

The State House.

Harrisburg, March 1.—The house met at 9 o'clock. Bills were read in place as follows:

By Mr. Fow, of Philadelphia, for the prevention of accidents to children on railroads, omnibuses and other vehicles. It requires parents to be more careful in permitting children to trespass on street railway tracks.

ABSOLUTELY PURE
THE OLD RELIABLE
SWEET CAPORAL
CIGARETTE

MORE SOLD THAN ALL OTHER BRANDS COMBINED

By Mr. Page, of Dauphin, to encourage military instruction in the public schools. It provides that the principal of the public schools shall enroll pupils as members of the "American Guards of Pennsylvania." It provides further that schools shall be organized into companies and battalions similar to the National Guard.

Mr. Smith, of Philadelphia, offered a resolution making a special order for the religious garb bill.

Mr. Fow, of Philadelphia, opposed the resolution on the ground that it was a bill of a private nature and affected but two schools in the commonwealth. He called the ayes and nays on the resolution and it resulted, ayes 84, nays 20. The bill in accordance with the special order then passed first reading.

Mr. Miles, of Tioga, offered the following resolution:

Resolved, That, if the senate concur, the general assembly adjourn sine die on Thursday, April 25, at noon.

The resolution went over under the rules.

Mr. Fow, of Philadelphia, introduced a resolution rescinding the resolution giving a hearing to interested persons who wish to be heard before bills are negatived. The resolution was lost.

Mr. Fow, of Philadelphia, offered a resolution, which went over under the rules. It is to give place on the calendar to the bill requiring voters who desire assistance in preparing their ballots to declare their disability under oath. The bill was negatived by the judiciary general committee. Then Speaker Walton announced the appointment of Representatives Fow, of Philadelphia; Kunkel, of Dauphin, and Merrick, of Tioga, a committee to inquire into the advisability of the state owning its own electric light plant.

The house then adjourned until 8 o'clock Monday evening.

A Disgusting Execution.

Fairburn, Ga., March 1.—At noon today Joseph Dean, a negro convicted of the murder of a white farmer. A. B. Lehigh, who resided here, was hanged. He was allowed to make a speech at the court house in which he reiterated his confession, and warned the people of his race against whiskey and crime. He told in detail the circumstances of the murder.

There were fully 3,000 people in this little town to witness the execution. The hanging was to have been in private, but just after Dean has been led to the scaffold, the crowd broke down the inclosure. The first effort to hang the man was a failure, as the rope broke. He was carried to the scaffold and another drop was taken. This proved successful.

Rivers Gorged With Ice.

Pittsburg, Pa., March 1.—The mild weather and recent rains have caused the ice to move from most points in the upper river. The extensive gorges in the Allegheny river at Ford City and at Parker continue to hold, and while it is possible that there may be a break up soon, it is not expected to-night. The Monongahela river, with the exception of a small gorge near Monongahela City, is clear to Morgantown. An ice jam in the Ohio river near East Liverpool, Ohio, last night wrecked the tug boats Pacific and Charley Hook and a model barge. The damage is estimated at $40,000.

A Successor To Warwick.

Philadelphia, March 1.—It was said today that James L. Miles, president of Select Council, will succeed Mayor-elect Charles F. Warwick as city solicitor, an office worth $10,000 a year. Miles is a strong adherent of David Martin. When Common Council shall reorganize there will be 129 members, of whom 123 are Republicans. On March 21 Councils, which have, since 1854, met in Independence hall, will move to the city hall, where gorgeous quarters are being fitted up.

Has Plenty of Nerve.

Fredericksburg, Va., March 1.—Morgan and Searcey, the Acquia Creek train robbers, were brought here to-day and again lodged in jail. Morgan's wonderful nerve has not deserted him. Several hundred persons were at the depot to see the prisoner. Morgan was taken to the jail in the ambulance but Searcey walked along, unconcernedly handcuffed to Detective Hinde.

NO GOLD GOES OUT.

And Wall Street Money Sharks Wait Abjectly on London.

New York, March 1.—R. G. Dun & Co's weekly review of trade tomorrow will say: No gold goes out, though sterling exchange has risen close to the exporting point, and it does not appear that syndicate has yet made an effort to control the exchange market. London has sold about 40,000 shares of stock during the week, and the market is distinctly lower for railroad shares, though a shade stronger for trusts. The stock market waits abjectly for London, and foreigners show thus far more disposition to sell than to buy. With drawals of gold by redemption of legal tenders have not ceased, but since the closing of the syndicate contract have averaged about $120,000 per day. There is no essential change in the money market, though rates are somewhat higher. Agricultural products are a shade higher, but without any reason which loos to the future operations. More people are idle in the great industries than were idle last week, but not for the reasons which distinctly affect the future. The industries make very slow gains where they make any. Little is said of the stoppage of the Edgar Thomson steel works, though many thousand hands depend on its operation, because the Carnegie company has purchased 50,000 tons Bessemer pig at $9.95 to $10.05 at Pittsburg, a price indicating that the biggest concern in western Pennsylvania does not want to make iron for less. At other markets pig iron has been quiet and elsewhere, as at Pittsburg, structural orders account for a large share of the new business reported, though activity in wire, wire rods and barbed wire still continues. Bar iron and still are firmer ar Pittsburg, but without change in quotations, and on the whole the reduced consumption in January does not seem to have more than matched the reduced production.

The failures for the week have been 250 in the United States against 261 last year, and in Canada 38 against 42 last year.

Should Get a Long Term.

Pottsville, March 1.—Last night John Grosco, a Slav, got drunk in Pottsville and went to his home in Palo Alto, where he attempted to split his young wife's head with an axe. George Ondick, a boarder in the house, interiered and carried the wife and babe off to a barn nearby. Grosco rushed after them and tried to break in the barn door. Failing in this he went back to the house and with one blow of his axe broke the kitchen stove. The hot coals rolled out on the floor and the house was burned. Grosco was sent to jail for arson and his wife and child were taken care of by charitable people.

The Season of Lent.

The penitential season of Lent is here. The custom of strewing ashes on the head as a sign of penitence, which was probably introduced by Gregory the great about 600 A. D., and sanctioned by Celestin III in 1191, gives its name to the first day of the fast—Ash Wednesday. Lent, as the forty days fast is usually called, was instituted by Pope Telespohorus A. D. 130. It is generally observed among what are known as the Apostolic churches and kept, in a lesser degree, by the others. In these days very few large entertainments are given during Lent, and the pause in the rush and whirl of fashionable life comes as a welcome rest. People cannot stand a constant strain, and perhaps the wise institutor of Lent "builded better than he knew."

RECLAIMED FROM DEATH.

The Terror of Man Thwarted.

In the Grasp of that Dread Disease, Consumption.—Life Given Back.—Almost Miraculous.

Fortunately, perhaps, the Consumptive does not realize his own condition. His is a disease of continual waste until he meets a death that is in reality one of starvation.

It is now generally conceded that this disease is incurable,—that is, by any known medicine. Change of climate, or some life-infusing food that will give new flesh, blood, and strength, and induce the various organs of the body to assume their normal functions,—this is the only hope.

The only way to do this effectually is to give the patient Bovinine, that great raw food product, the greatest concentration of the life-giving elements of raw beef known to modern science. In this connection the results obtained by Dr. J. H. Head of Atlanta, Ga., in the treatment of a case of consumption, are interesting.

Dr. Head relates briefly how a man about thirty-five years of age came to him for treatment. He had lost forty pounds in weight in six months; he suffered with a bad cough and experienced severe night sweats; he was unable to do any work; most of his family had died of consumption, and on examination his right lung was found to be seriously affected, and as the doctor remarked, "He was in a good way to have an early funeral."

But note what happened. He was given Bovinine. In two weeks he had gained seven pounds, his appetite had returned, he was able to do a good day's work, and most of the distressing symptoms had vanished; and at the time of writing the doctor felt sure of a complete cure.

This is but one of many similar cases. Bovinine will give new life and strength, make new blood and flesh, stop waste, ward off disease, and turn the current of life's river again into its natural channel. Give it one trial while there is yet hope.

"Si Perkins."

"Si Perkins from Pughtown" was presented in the opera house last night b the Burton-Coleman company, and everybody seemed delighted with the entertainment. The New Si Perkins, although reconstructed almost from the beginning to the end, with a great many new specialties added, yet the performance was satisfactory to everybody. We had the pleasure of meeting Homer E. Davis, the business manager of the troupe, and found him to be a very clever and affable gentleman, who, by the way, is an old newspaper man.—Philipsburg Journal.

"Si Perkins" will be the attraction at Garman's opera house Thursday evening, March 7th.

Lumberman Fails.

The DuBois Courier says that T. J. Shaffer, one of the largest lumber operators on Bennett's Branch, has failed. Hall, Kaul & Co., levied on his goods. Shaffer lumbered all around that country; on Dent's run, Trout run, Spring run and various tributaries to the branch. For a year or two past he has been operating in the vicinity of Caledonia. A large amount of his work for several years past has been for the Hall and Kaul interests. The amount of his liabilities is not known; however they are reported to be about $26,000. Shaffer is the present treasurer of Elk county.

Tried To Bribe Kerr.

Washington, March 1.—Mr. Kerr, the Clerk of the House, has received a letter from a stranger down in Tennessee who informs him that the Louisville "Courier-Journal" last fall offered a prize of $2,000 to the person who could make the most accurate guess concerning the political complexion of the next House, and he says that he came within two of naming the Republican majority. To win the money he has got to be exact and he proposes to pay Mr. Kerr $500 if he will manipulate the official roll so as to coform with the figures sent to the Courier-Journal." It can be done he says by displacing two Republicans and putting Democrats or Populists in their places.

Missionaries in Peril.

London, March 3.—The Daily News correspondent in Constantinople says: "The situation of the missionaries of the American board residing at Marash is critical. Two of them are British subjects. The governor general of the province of Aleppo declares that he suspects them of insurgent designs and has ordered their letters opened before delivery. Boxes of food and clothing addressed to them must now be examined by the police. The chief of police in Marash publicly declared that the missionaries were importing arms for use against the Mohamedans. The bigotry of the ignorant populace already aroused against the Armenians is now directed against the missionaries. Disaster is possible at any moment unless the agitation be checked."

Will Result in Murder.

Wheeling, March 1.—Early this morning Joseph and John Sinler, brothers, and John Kulbach, all miners employed at Maynard, got into a drunken row. The brothers turned upon Kulbach, knocked him down and beat his head and face with rocks until there is no hope for his recovery.

Kulbach and the Sinler brothers were taken to Maryland by friends, but officers from Bridgport have gone after them.

The New County Schemes.

It seems that Wilkes-Barre does not intend to let the proposed new county—to be made out of parts of Luzerne and Schuylkill—go through without a very vigorous protest. Some of the business organizations at the Luzerne County seat have taken action and will endeavor to obstruct the final passage of the bill, which is already through the Senate.

Upon what ground they expect to base their opposition we do not know. There is no particular demand for new counties in Pennsylvania, but if the people in the southern part of Luzerne and the northern part of Schuylkill want to enjoy the dignity of a new county, and are willing to be taxed to build a court house and jail, and to support an equipment of county officials within a narrower territory than at the present time, it appears to be a matter of much more concern to those particular people than to those residing in portions of the two counties not to be included in the new organization. It will cost a good deal of money to get the new county started, and a good deal to keep it going after it is started, but none of it will have to be paid by those who are left outside its limits.

It is a notable thing that while the Constitution forbids the Legislature to pass any local or special law erecting new counties or changing county lines, this bill to dismember Luzerne and Schuylkill Counties is, in effect, a special act. It provides that whenever two or more adjoining counties shall each obtain a population of 150,000 or more, or shall have already reached the same, they may be divided. This cannot possibly apply to any other counties in the State save Schuylkill and Luzerne, for they are the only two adjoining which by the most recent census had each a population of 150,000 or more. The act could not be made applicable to any other counties, probably, within the present generation, unless it be Luzerne and Lackawanna. Two other propositions for new counties now on the wing cannot be carried out under this bill, and substantially special acts would have to be passed to meet their needs.

For Better Oil.

Yesterday a bill was introduced into the state senate which has for its object the giving of our people a better quality of oil. The bill raises the fire test for petroleum, kerosene, naptha, &c., from 110 degrees Fahrenheit to 150 degrees. Those interested in the measure claim that on account of the low test in Pennsylvania the poorest quality of oil is dumped here and sold. The people of the state make the same complaint as the French and German governments, which claim that Lima oil is palmed off on their people for the reliable Keystone product, which is he finest petroleum in the world.

In the neighboring states of Ohio, New York and New Jersey the fire test is 150 degrees. To meet this requirement the best oil must be used and it costs a little more to reach this degree of safety for the consumer. The result is, so it is charged, that the fine Pennsylvania oils is sold in these states, while the Lima and cheap New York products are good enough for the people here.

—Over in Pennsvalley the snow was drifted during the blizzard so high in one place that a large apple tree standing up right was completely buried out of sight At another place a person could step from the drifted snow to the top of a barn, and at another a pig pen was completely covered and to get from the house to the barn the farmer walked on the snow directly over the pen.

THE most important feature in the March number of St. Nicholas is a new Jungle Story by Rudyard Kipling, "The King's Ankus." Mowgli, that delightful boy adopted by the jungle folk, figures in this story, together with the big rock python, Kaa, and the black panther, Bagheera. Kaa leads Mowgli to an underground cove where is a vast treasure of gold and jewels, guarded by an old white cobra. After overcoming the cobra, Mowgli takes from the treasury a jewel-studded elephant goad. But he tires of it, for it brings death to half a dozen of the manpack. The description of a hunt through the jungle by Bagheera and Mowgli will not soon be forgotten. Prof Brander Matthews contributes a sketch of Hawthorne to his series of studies of great American authors. Prof. Hjalmar Hjorth Boyesen, in "The Boys' War," has a story of boy life in Norway. The rivalry between the dwellers on the opposite side of a river leads to a constant series of battles. Snow forts are built, and prodigies of valor are performed by both armies. The serials by Howard Pyle, Albert Stearns, Jessie M. Anderson, and Elbridge S. Brooks have interesting instalments. Prof. W. T. Hornaday writes in his usual lively style of "Br'er Rabbit and His Folks." This is one of the most familiar families among American quadrupeds, but Prof. Hornadoy brings together many facts about the rabbits and hares.

—Guy H. Davies, son of ex-Lieut. Governor Davies, has been appointed executive clerk by Governor Hastings, to succeed Capt. W. F. Reber.

—It appears that S. H. Williams has gone into a new business, he now having charge of the University Inn, at State College. There is no reason why Mr. Williams should not make a great success of the hotel business, as he is very obliging and courteous in every way.

A NARROW ESCAPE!

How it Happened.

The following remarkable event in a lady's life will interest the reader: "For a long time I had a terrible pain at my heart, which fluttered almost incessantly. I had no appetite and could not sleep. I would be compelled to sit up in bed and belch gas from my stomach until I thought every minute would be my last. There was a feeling of oppression about my heart, and I was afraid to draw a full breath. I couldn't sweep a room without sitting down and resting; but, thank God, by the help of New Heart Cure all that is past and I feel like another woman. Before using the New Heart Cure I had taken different so-called remedies and been treated by doctors without any benefit until I was both discouraged and disgusted. My husband bought me a bottle of Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure, and am happy to say I never regretted it, as I now have a splendid appetite and sleep well. I weighed 125 pounds when I began taking the remedy, and now I weigh 130½. Its effect in my case has been truly marvelous. It far surpasses any other medicine I have ever taken or any benefit I ever received from physicians."—Mrs. Harry Starr, Pottsville, Pa., October 12, 1892.

Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure is sold on a positive guarantee by all druggists, or by the Dr. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind., on receipt of price, $1 per bottle, six bottles $5, express prepaid. This great discovery by an eminent specialist in heart disease, contains neither opiates nor dangerous drugs.

Advertising.

If a merchant desires to sell his goods he should advertise them. A merchant and his place of business may have been well known for thirty years, yet the readers of newspapers don't know what kind of goods he has for sale, or their price, consequently a customer will pass by him and make his purchase of those who advertises them, and the price for which they can be purchased, whilst the merchant who don't advertise may have the same goods, at the same price. This is a reading age and the only way to reach intelligent people is by advertising in the newspaper. The advertiser should get up nice, crisp, and taking advertisements and he will find his business right along. John Wannamaker pays a salary of five thousand dollars per annum to the man who simply writes his advertisements.

THE JAPANESE continue their victories over the Chinese. The Japanese Minister to Germany is quoted as saying that, without a cession of territory, China cannot reckon on the termination of the war. In the meantime Li Hung Chang, is preparing himself to act as one of the peace envoys to Japan. The Chinese are said to be willing to sue for peace, but the matter of a cession of territory is one upon which the respective belligerents are not willing to agree. In the meantime the slaughter of the Chinese goes on, and the Treasuries of both countries are depleted of millions.

VIGOROUS HEALTH FOR MEN

THE PASTILLE CURE FOR NERVOUS DEBILITY — TRADE MARK

Prof. HARRIS' SOLUBLE MEDICATED Pastille

Has been put up in a proprietary form since 1878, and has been used for years prior to that time in private practice. It is no untried nostrum, of doubtful reputation, but a genuine specific for a very prevalent disease. Thousands of men, of all ages, have at some time in life brought on nervous debility and exhaustion, with organic weakness, by over brain work, excesses, too frequent indulgence or indiscretion and vicious habits, and it is to these that we offer a remedy that will, by its direct action upon the seat of the disease, stop the drain and restore the patient to vigorous health and strength.

Our method of introducing Prof. Harris' Pastille treatment is one which commends itself to all sensible persons—for the reason that we supply it upon their judgment of its value. We ask of our patrons nothing in the way of expense beyond a postal card and a two cent postage stamp. The postal card to be used in sending us their full address and the postage stamp for the letter returning the statement of their case for which we supply them with a question blank, to be filled out, and an envelope addressed to ourselves for use in returning it when filled.

FREE TRIAL PACKAGE. When we receive the statement on blank we prepare eight days' treatment and forward it by mail and prepay postage thereon—and along with the eight days' treatment we send full directions for using. The treatment in no way interferes with a person's attention to business, and causes no pain or inconvenience in any way.

We are so positive that it will give perfect satisfaction that we leave the matter of sending orders entirely with those using the free trial treatment. Having satisfied those sending for trial packages of our ability to benefit their sexual condition we feel that they are more largely interested than ourselves in continuing the use of the Pastilles. Even then we do not attempt to rob them by demanding high prices. On the contrary, we make the prices as low as possible, and the same to all. They are as follows: $3 for one month; $5 for two months; $7 for three months.

These prices secure the delivery of the Pastilles by mail. If desired by express we leave the patient to pay the charges. For over ten years we have operated our business upon this plan with satisfactory results. We ask all persons needing treatment for any of the secret ills which come to mankind through a violation of nature's laws to send us their address on postal card or by letter and allow us to convince them that PROF. HARRIS' SOLUBLE MEDICATED PASTILLES have cured and are what they need.

FOSTER'S PREDICTIONS.

Warns Farmers of Storms in This Month and Will Be of More Force Than Usual.

My last bulletin gave forecasts of the storm wave to cross the continent from March 1 to 5, and the next will reach the Pacific coast about the 6th, cross the western mountain country by the close of the 7th, the great central valleys from the 8th to the 10th and the eastern states about the 11th.

This disturbance will be of more force than usual, but precipitation will be light except in a few limited localities. The most important feature of this storm wil be the cold wave immediately following its warm wave, causing great extremes of temperature and frosts further south than usual.

Just here it is pertinent to repeat that the 1895 crop season weather will be uncommon and remarkable and every part of the United States may prepare for the unusual. The third storm wave of March will reach the Pacific coast about the 12th, cross the western mountain country by close of the 13th, the great central valleys 14th to 16th and the eastern states about the 17th.

The feature of this disturbance will be a very considerable increase of precipitation as compared with the first part of the month, and the temperature will average low during the two weeks following this storm wave.

Warm waves will cross the western mountain country about 6th and 12th great central valleys 8th and 14th, and eastern states 10th and 16th. Cool waves will cross the western mountain country about 9th and 15th, great central valleys 11th and 17th, and eastern states 13th and 19.

The principal storms of March will be those to cross the continent from 7th to 11th and 24th to 28th, and the cold waves following these will be the most severe of the month,

The principal, most beautiful, aurora will accompany the cold wave crossing the continent from 25 to 27th. A more brilliant aurora will accompany the cold wave crossing the continent 7th to 9th, but it will probably be observed by the full moon.

Literary Note From the Century Co.

During the present revival of interest in Napoleon there has been some confusion as to the use of the names of the great Emperor. Many people believe that Bonaparte or Bounaparte are used interchangeable, or according to preference, and that either of these forms, or simply Napoleon, is proper to apply to him at any period of his career. Professor William M. Sloane, around whose history of Napoleon in The Century is crystallizing much of the general interest in the Corsican, gives a logical rule that has guided him in the use of the various forms of the name. He called his work "Life of Napoleon Bonaparte," as this was the name finally chosen by the man himself. In the opening chapters he used the form adopted and used by the family as Corsican—Buonaparte. This form Napoleon kept until he was married, when he cast aside his affiliations, and became a true son of France, changing the spelling to Bonaparte. Professor Sloane uses this form after that period, until his hero became emperor, when he gives only his imperial title—Napoleon. So the change in name is made an index of the entire career of the wonderful man.

Mr. Gladstone has just written an article on "The Lord's Day." wherein he considers, with the fervor of conviction and the breadth of learning for which he is famous, the grounds for keeping as the Christian Sabbath the first instead of the seventh day of the week, and the proper measure and spirit of Christian Sabbath observance. The article will appear in McClure's Magazine for March, along with a series of portraits of Gladstone covering a period of eighty years and showing him at every important epoch of his life.

Predicted Too Many Blizzards.

While nobody will be sorry because the expected, or rather the predicted, did not happen, yet there are several weather prophets who will now go gunning for excuses to offer for the failure of the blizzard that was given out with a great deal of confidence would bliz, freeze and blow about the 25th. Certain weather prophets who have gained quite a reputation for hitting it remarkably well this winter will now be placed among the number who have gone before with the record "doubtful and uncertain."

Table Talk.

"Decorations for a Dining-Room" by Miss Elizebeth B. Sheldon, is the article in the March number of Table Talk, the American authority upon Culinary and Household topics. Her suggestions are both bright and pratical, and we are not surprised that her decorations have become a necessity in the homes at our National Capitol, before they can be considered complete. Mr. Charles W. Garfield, Secretary of the Michigan State Board of Agriculture, also gives a very interesting account of the progress of Domestic Science in the Farmer's Institutes of his own state and elsewhere. The regular departments and the Dietic Lesson are as usual, full to overflowing with bright and new ideas on all subjects of interest to the house-keeper and home-maker. There are the menue and recipes by Miss Helen Louise Johnson, also mention of the newest things in table-service, novelties, etiquette, fashions, literature and so on. This magazine is published in Philadelphia, at $1.00 a year, and a sample copy is offered to any of our readers. free.

Americans are a nation of readers. In every home in our broad land, with possibly few exceptions, are treasured means for this delightful and beneficial employment of leisure moments. Each year broadening in its method of individual culture, contributes increased facilities, and brings them within the reach of all.

But there is no literature for the common people like the newspaper. It is the daily companion alike of the prince and the peasent, the man who inherits and the man who earns, of the millionaire in his mansion, and the laborer in his cot. It comes as regularly as the glow of the lamp light, and finds a welcome at every fireside. If the night be fair under the radiant moon that walks in queenly beauty through her starry courts, or if the pitiless storm beats madly at the window pane,—it does not matter— this messenger of good tidines is present to entertain and instruct, or tell to willing ears in that little circle what goes on in the great bustling world without.

What better message can the merchant send than his advertisement of household necessities of fashion's novelties? What better revenue to the domestic group can the tradesman find?

Try it, and you will soon realize in an increase of patronage, it has brought to your trade a new constituency of buyers. Try it and you will never return to the old methods; nor will you ever cease to wonder why you so long neglected such a profitable investment.

He Could Spell.

Abraham Lincoln in his schoolboy days was a champion speller, and was, moreover, a most ready and obliging prompter, consequently when an unusually difficult spelling lesson was to be recited the future president was frequently excused from the room. On one occasion the word "defied" had been around the class once and was on its second trip, the class being a unit in the opinion that it was spelled with a "y." As it neared a little favorite of Lincoln's he looked at her through a rear window, caught her attention, stuck his finger in one eye and winked with the other. The quick witted girl understood, spelled it correctly and Abe was never suspected of helping that spelling class.

MERCURIAL POISON

Is the result of the usual treatment of blood disorders. The system is filled with Mercury and Potash remedies—more to be dreaded than the disease—and in a short while is in a far worse condition than before. The most common result is for which S. S. S. is the most reliable cure. A few bottles will afford relief where all else has failed.

I suffered from a severe attack of Mercurial Rheumatism, my arms and legs being swollen to more than twice their natural size, causing the most excruciating pains. I spent hundreds of dollars without relief, but after taking a few bottles of S.S.S. improved rapidly, and am now a well man, completely cured. I can heartily recommend your wonderful medicine to anyone afflicted with this painful disease.

Local Department.

—Will we have more snow?

—Don't forget "Si Perkins."

—Easter this year comes on April 14th.

—Three months from to-day will be the last day of Bellefonte's centennial celebration.

—Watch for the wonderful street parade, and be sure and hear the grand concert by the Pughtown band on Thursday.

—If Monday night's freeze was the "great blizzard" we were to have, it was not much of an affair, after all.

—Watch for "Si Perkins'" street parade to-morrow noon. And don't miss the grand concert of the Pughtown farmer's band.

—At their supper Tuesday evening the Methodist ladies cleared something over fifty dollars. Quite a nice little sum indeed.

—It really looks as if Bellefonte was to get along without a shirt factory. But that fact will not make those garments any scarcer.

—Next week the price of chickens in Tyrone will be away up. Because the Methodist ministers will be there by the hundred, you know.

—And now it is not what Congress is doing, but what it didn't do, that is being discussed by everybody. But the latter is a greater subject than the former.

—On and after the first of April Mr John S. Waite expects to establish himself in a bicycle store in Bellefonte, providing he can become conveniently situated.

—Only two more weeks until the beginning of spring. But it is just as well to cling to your flannels a little longer yet; and also keep your heavy overcoat handy for use.

—A certain young man in Bellefonte had a hat smashing experience while passing along Howard street this noon. Snow balls don't often fall from the sky, but they seemed to this time.

—There is another scheme on foot to buy a steam stone crusher and road roller or the streets of Bellefonte. Will it prove more successful than the last attempt, is the all prevailing question.

—Now that the snow is going off the dirt left in its wake is simply dreadful. Don't be afraid to clean up. Use the hose freely and if that can not be done, take buckets of water and wash the soot away.

—The ladies are becoming interested in the appearance of Bellefonte, and we may expect to see the cobwebs swept from every street and alley in the town when cleaning up time comes.

—Dr. A. Hibler has had a neat iron railing put around the porch of his residence on Allegheny street. The doctor believes in having everything fixed so "the children" cannot fall off.

—Did you notice the peculiar lights in the western sky Saturday night about ten o'clock? It was far different from the "norther, lights" and a phenomenon that our most able local scientists could not explain.

—By the calculations of a gentleman who kept a correct measurement we had just 72½ inches of snow fall since December 26th 1894. All together there were just about sixty days, or almost nine weeks of sleighing, and for seven weeks the thermometer seldom got above zero and more than one night was down to ten degrees below and as low as twenty-six in some parts of the county. If that don't count up a pretty good spell of winter weather, we would like to know what does.

—The citizens of the town, recognizing the extreme danger, that always exists, of a collision at the railroad crossing on Water street, near Jackson's flouring mill, have petitioned Supt. E. B. Westfall to place a watchman at that place. They have been joined in their petition by a resolution of the town council.

—On pretty reliable information we are pleased to announce that there is a substantial boom in prospect for Bellefonte during the coming summer. We trust it will hurry along and assume the proportions now represented. We could stand most anything better than this present total stagnation of all business interests and industries.

—ELIZABETH STUART PHELPS, Mrs. A. D. T. Whitney, Rev. Robert Collyer, and Walter Besant are all going to tell in The Ladies' Home Journal of either the man or woman who most influenced their lives.

—The State College Experiment Station Bulletin, No. 28, which treats on the value of cottonseed feed for dairy cows, is now being sent out. It is interesting alike to the local dairyman and the farmer. Will be mailed free on application to H. P. Armsby, the director.

—THREE clever women, Margaret Deland, Sarah Orne Jewett and Mrs. Burton Harrison, will try and settle in the next number of The Ladies' Home Journal when it is proper to use the word "woman" and when the term "lady" should be employed.

COUNCIL IN SESSION.

A Big Rush of Miscellaneous Business Done.

The new council convened in its first regular session at 8 o'clock on Monday evening with President Miller in the chair and members Gerberich, Hillibish, Keller, Brockerhoff, Brachbill and Bush present. Isaac Mitchell, clerk, read the minutes of the morning's session, which were approved as read.

President Miller then announced the standing committees for the ensuing year as follows, the first named gentleman being chairman:

Finance Committee—Gerberich, Keller and Bush.

Street—Williams, Beaver, Brockerhoff.

Water—Hillibish, Gerberich Brachbill.

Market—Brachbill, Williams Bush.

Fire and Police—Gerberich, Hillibish, Brachbill.

Nuisance—Brockerhoff, Keller, Bush.

Village Improvement—Beaver, Keller, Brokerhoff.

Daniel Snyder appeared before Council and asked for a boardwalk on the east side of North Allegheny street. The matter was referred to the Street Committee.

A lengthy communication from Mr. William Shortlidge was referred to the Water committee for first reading and report to council.

John S. Waite appeared before council and requested permission to lay three railroad rails on Water street, under the line of the water pipe, and to extend out over Spring creek, for the purpose of putting the old band stand thereon to be used as an office for a bicycle store.

A numerously signed petition was presented to council, asking that the council pass a resolution, requesting the railroad company to place a watchman at the crossing out by Jackson's mill, where the Lewisburg railroad crosses Water street.

On the report of the Water committee the communication from Mr. Shortlidge was laid on the table without being read in open council.

An application from Joel Johnson, for the position of Street commissioner, was read by the clerk of council.

The President then announced it in order for the election of a Borough Solicitor, Water Works Engineer and Street Commissioner.

On recommendation of the Finance committee Clement Dale, Esq., was re-elected borough solicitor for the ensuing year.

On recommendation of the street committee J. H. Wetzel was re-elected borough engineer for the next year.

On the recommendation of the Water committee Samuel Ryan was re-elected superintendent of water pipes and engineer for the ensuing year on the same terms as the past year.

In the absence of the chairman of the street committee no recommendation for street commissioner was made, and the present incumbent will be continued until the next meeting.

On recommendation of the Fire and Police committee the present police force. H. H. Montgomery and William Gares, was retained at the present rate of wages.

Referring to the request of John S. Waite for permission to lay three iron rails under Water street, Mr. Hillibish moved that the request be granted, with the proviso that no entrance be made from High street. The motion carried.

In disposition of the communication asking for a watchman at the Jackson mill railroad crossing, council passed a resolution joining the citizens in their request.

The question of water rents to parties outside of the borough was referred to the Water committee for a schedule of rates to report at the next meeting, it being the prevailing impression that the old rates have been too low—about 75 per cent lower than residents of the borough are obliged to pay.

Alexander Ford appeared relative to his water tax, and the cutting off of the water at his present residence. After some discussion Mr. Ford agreed to pay the balance of tax claimed by the borough, $2.25, and the council agreed to again turn on the water.

Further steps were taken toward the putting down of a boardwalk on South Potter street, the matter being referred to the borough solicitor for investigation as to the legality of putting down the walk.

There being no further busines for transaction council adjourned.

How's This for a Love Epistle.

The following is an excellent love letter that was picked up by a young man in Milesburg, and which will explain itself:

MILESBURG, Feb. 25, 1895.

DEAR MISS————,

With feelings of the most profound respect and esteem I address you. You have long been the object of my warmest and truest love—nothing but the most devoted affection could induce me to commit so bold an act as that of riting to you and divulging a secret that has long been locked in my heart. I am humble and afraid of all great pretentions either to rank fortune or learning, but I no my gait and endeavor to be content in doing it.

My connection and family are known to you. You have been intimate with my sisters for several years back. It has been during my intercourse with you that I have discovered those admirable points in your character and excellence of conduct that has made the possession of your heart and hand essential to my life and happiness. Excuse me I entreat you, there is none other I can ever love, my destiny is either for weal or woe, depends upon your decision. I hope you will consider these few lines and be not indifferent to my wish by kindly easing my soul of that dreadful thought that we must part forever.

You must have known before this of my attachment—it is, therefore, needless to make a confession of the existence of those feelings which fill my heart and which I now convide to you. I respect you for your prudence and lady-like conduct and love you for yourself alone, for my hope, my thoughts and my desires are all for you.

As to what we were talking about the other night considering my conduct, that is the only thing that I am sorry for, and if you say so, why we shall try to make things quite different. Lovingly yours, fondly and with affections true,

FRIEND————

P. S.—Don't get scared when you read this, for I mean every word of it! Don't this surprise you?

————TO————WITH LOVE. O. K.

F. C.

Do We Want It?

The managers of a carpet works in this state are seeking another desirable location for a tapestry plant. It will be a good industry, capable of employing one thousand hands. In order to move the firm desires subscriptions to stock and bonds in the new company. Does Bellefonte want it?

—While you are thinking of other things don't forget the social in the Presbyterian chapel Thursday evening to be given by the Christian Endeavor Society. It will be a regular old-fashioned affair and extremely entertaining. Admission price only 10 cents.

Successful Pastoral Work.

Rev. G. P. Sarvis, pastor of the Methodist churches in the Port Matilda circuit, has completed a very successful year's work—in some respects surprisingly so. During the year he has preached 238 sermons, made 364 visits, delivered 20 addresses, attended 15 funerals, held 26 prayer meetings. For benevolence $65 were contributed and for missions the handsome sum of $106. Although the past year was one of the most depressing financially in the history of this country, yet the amount contributed to missions was at least $10 greater than last year. Rev. Mr. Sarvis says it was not difficult to collect either; he had only to ask the people and they gave with warm hearts and generous hands.

LICENSES DISPOSED OF.

19 Granted, 9 Refused and 24 Held Over.

Undoubtedly there were a good many surprised ones when Hon. John G. Love handed down his decisions in the license cases this morning, and, it must be admitted some of the surprise was agreeable—to the temperance people—and some very disagreeable—to the applicants. It was generally believed that Judge Love would be more liberal than his predecessor but the results so far do not indicate the same. The disposition thus far made is 19 granted, 9 refused and 24 held under consideration. The granted are as follows;

Tavern licenses—W. L. Daggett, A. S. nd C. M. Garman, John M. Neubauer, H. C. Yeager, Beilefonte; D. L. Bartges Centre Hall; J. L. DeHass, Howard; W. S. Musser and Willis Weaver, Millheim; Geo. E. Leister, Tattersall Ingram, Tempest Slinger, James Passmore, Philipsburg; A. A. Kohlbecker, Milesburg; D. H. Ruhl, Spring Mills; R. O. Braucht, Coburn; Edwin Ruhl, Old Fort. Wholesale beer, John Anderson, Bellefonte. Distillers, John C. Mulfinger, Pleasant Gap, and N. W. Eby, Woodward.

Those refused are John B. Swoope, Philipsburg; James A. Decker, Pine Grove Mills; E. Korman, Woodward; W. H. Spangler, Blanchard; W. S. Hull, Rush township, all tavern licenses. Geo. Deim, Rush township, wholesale liquor and John Delige, E. G. Henderson and Thos. Pilhington, Philipsburg, restaurant licenses. All the other applicants were held over.

PERSONAL PENCILINGS.

Ellis L. Orvis, Esq., is confined to his home with a spell of illness.

Misses Jessie Durst and Annie Goodheart, of Potters Mills are visitng friends in Tyrone.

Henry Linn, who has been spending several weeks in Philadelphia is again at his home in this place.

The Misses Mitchell, of Lock Haven, are visiting at the home of Ira C. Mitchell, Esq., on Spring street.

Mrs. N. K. Dare, of Philadelphia, formerly a resident of Bellefonte, is the guest of her daughter, Mrs. Brockerhoff, at the Brockerhoff House.

Miss Rebecca Bartley departed on Friday evening on the 4:55 train for State College, where she will spend Sunday with her friend Miss Rilla Williams, at the University Inn.

Mr. Cyrus Wasson, of Lemont, was an agreeable caller at this office to-day. Mr. Wasson doesn't come to town very often but when he does he generally is kept pretty busy.

Harper—Wetzel.

Tuesday afternoon, between 5 and 6 o'cloc , Mr. Jared Harper, the well-known grocer and prominent citizen of this place, and Miss Mary Wetzel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Wetzel, of near Bellefonte, were wedded in the Reformed church. Only the immediate relatives of the happy couple were present. The officiating minister was Rev. Frank Wetzel, who is a brother of the bride. The happy couple, after a reception, went at once to the home of the groom.

Mr. Harper is so well known in this community that any eulogy of him would be superfluous. The bride is accomplished and cultivated and will make a fit life partner for the man of her choice. We join with their many friends in wishing them many years of great happiness.

Where He Will Locate.

Mr. John S. Waite has concluded arrangements whereby he will be able to secure a very good location for a business stand. He will put the old band stand over Spring creek at the corner of Water street and High street bridge, fix the thing up into a snug and convenient office and shop and there he will make his headquarters as the leading bicycle agent in Centre county. He will also keep for sale a choice line of confectionery tobacco, cigars, fruits, nuts, etc. This will be a first class location and we hope Mr. Waite may meet with the success he so much deserves.

Robbery at Mill Hall.

On Saturday evening between the hours of 7 and 9 o'clock the Bald Eagle Valley railroad station at Mill Hall was entered by burglars, and about $20 were taken from the safe. The thieves evidently entered through the rear room as the transom above the door had been broken. The robbery took place while the operator and other employes were at supper.

Jolly But Awful.

Onion socials are becoming popular in some parts of the country. Six young ladies stand in a row, one bites a piece out of an onion and the gentlemen pay 10 cents apiece to guess who bit it. The correct guessers kiss the other five girls, while the unsuccessful kiss the one that bit the onion. There are no blanks in this lottery.

TWO OPPORTUNITIES.

If the Board of Trade Would Only Get Down to Business.

As about three-fourths or more of the Board of Trade of Bellefonte seem to have lost their interest in the efforts to increase the manufacturing interest of our town, the following letters have been handed to us for publication to which we invite the attention of our readers, and will further add, that there is little hope of bringing anything new to our town, unless the members of the Boare of Trade will attend the regular meetings on the first Tuesday evening of each month. The officers of the meeting were present Tuesday evening and could not transact any business for want of a quorum; and the meeting adjourned to meet on Tuesday evening of next week, the 12th inst.

ALTOONA, PA., March 2d, 1895.

MY DEAR MR. SHORTLIDGE,

The Dougherty Type-Writer Co., Kittanning, Pa., which has one of the very best machines on the market, is looking up a location to establish a plant for the manufacture of their machines on a more extensive scale.

Since Bellefonte possesses so many natural advantages, that ought to attract a business of this character, I mention the matter to you so that it may properly be presented to the Board of Trade, with a view that correspondence be started, and inquiries made into the merits of the case. You see, I have not lost all interest in the good old town.

A letter directed to that company at either Pittsburg or Kittaning, Pa., will reach proper authority.

I understand Williamsport, Pa., is making an effort to get the establishment.

Truly yours,
HAYES C. SCHROYER.

FALLS CREEK, Jefferson Co., Pa., Feb. 25.

W. F. REEDER, ESQ.,

DEAR SIR:—There is a party here with a patent just issued (19th inst.) for making Wire Glass, something new. I was speaking with the Patentees, who are both practical Glass Workers, that before they would make any arrangements, elsewhere, to try Bellefonte, where there is already a Glass Plant. Will you kindly let me know whether the furnaces at your Works are square or round, and also what inducements you would offer such a concern to locate there. They will employ from 50 to 75 men to start with, and will increase the force right along.

The product of this patent will principally be used in structural work—for Train Sheds, Depot Roofing, Conservator Roofing, Glass Monuments, Tomb Stones, etc., and can be worked in conjunction with Window Glass.

Please hand this letter to the President of the Board of Trade, as I wish an answer as soon as possible.

Yours truly,
P. J. GILL.
